

English Class... ... o jakiej marzysz!

Dzięki English Class lekcje języka angielskiego stają się przepustką do świata komunikacji. Aktualne teksty, różnorodne zadania, filmy prezentujące naturalny język, bogata oprawa multimedialna i ciekawy kontekst kulturowy nie tylko zainteresują uczniów klas 4-8, ale przede wszystkim pomogą im skutecznie porozumiewać się w języku obcym i rozwijać poprawność językową.

ENGLISH CLASS POWSTAŁ Z MYŚLĄ O 8-KLASOWEJ SZKOLE PODSTAWOWEJ

- w 100% realizuje wymogi nowej podstawy programowej, w tym wszystkie zakresy tematyczne
- pozwala elastycznie dopasować ścieżkę kursu do poziomu zaawansowania siódmo- i ósmoklasistów
- umożliwia sukces na egzaminie ósmoklasisty

ENGLISH CLASS STAWIA NA AUTENTYCZNE MATERIAŁY ŹRÓDŁOWE

- ilustruje praktyczne zastosowanie nowych struktur poprzez krótkie filmy sytuacyjne
- umożliwia uczniom osłuchanie się z naturalnym językiem dzięki filmom BBC
- zachęca do interakcji i realizacji wyznaczonych celów komunikacyjnych dzięki modelowym wypowiedziom

ENGLISH CLASS OTWIERA UCZNIÓW NA ŚWIAT

- uczy współpracy i rozwija kompetencje społeczne
- zachęca do odkrywania nowych sposobów uczenia się z wykorzystaniem nowoczesnych technologii (Extra Online Homework)
- zapoznaje uczniów z kulturą krajów anglojęzycznych, m.in. dzięki filmom BBC, i zaprasza do spojrzenia na nią w szerszym kontekście

PEOPLE TODAY WATCH TV IN DIFFERENT WAYS

OUR READERS TELL US ABOUT HOW THEY
AND THEIR FAMILIES WATCH TV.

I usually watch TV in my room but sometimes I watch it with my family. That's good because we don't often spend a lot of time together. Also we can talk about the film or programme and sometimes have arguments! But one problem is that my family often disagrees about what they want to watch! So, in my room I can choose my own programmes.

Also today we don't need to watch live TV. When I'm out I record my favourite programme and watch it later. That way you can cut all the advertisements – which is great! My best friend watches TV online. She says it's better because she can watch anything at any time! But she gets the adverts!

My brother never watches much TV because he spends all his time checking different channels. He watches for a few minutes and then gets bored and looks for another programme! In the end he never watches a complete programme.

My dad doesn't have much time to watch TV during the week so he gets DVDs of all his favourite programmes. Then at the weekend he watches about four hours of shows like Downton Abbey! They say teenagers get 'square eyes' but in our family it's my dad.

1 Read the text. Match paragraphs 1–4 with headings a–e. There is one extra heading.

- a The right time for you
- b A new way to watch TV
- c Marathon TV
- d Too much choice?
- e With others or alone?

2 Read the text again. Mark the sentences T (true), F (false) or D (doesn't say).

- 1 The writer's family does a lot of things together. ☐
- 2 They usually have the same opinions. ☐
- 3 The writer prefers programmes without breaks. ☐
- 4 The writer's brother doesn't like watching TV. ☐
- 5 The writer likes Downton Abbey. ☐
- 6 The writer's father works in the evenings. ☐

3 Complete the sentences with the words from the box.

- Newspapers show annoying pictures when
 - Katy isn't very well.
 - Katy isn't wearing make-up.
 - Katy is with her dog.

Interviewer: Hi, Katy. I'm Anna. Thank you for agreeing to do this interview.

Katy: That's OK. I have a day off and I'm just relaxing so I can talk to you. You're not interrupting anything!

Interviewer: That's good. I have some questions for you from our readers.

Katy: Cool! I really like your magazine.

Interviewer: Great! So, the first question is – do you usually work in the USA or in the UK?

Katy: Well, as you know, I live in Los Angeles in the States but I often come to the UK for work. I'm here right now to film a new TV show. Then I plan to have a short holiday in Scotland before I go back home.

Interviewer: Excellent! You're a very famous actor and our readers want to know – do you like being famous? Does anything annoy you?

Katy: That's a very good question! I love my work but some things about it are annoying! Often when I'm eating in a restaurant people ask for my autograph. Also, there's another thing I really hate. If I'm shopping in the supermarket and I'm not wearing smart clothes or make-up, photographers love it! They take a photograph and the next day it's in the newspaper with the words. 'Poor Katy is looking ill and tired! Is she working too hard?'

Interviewer: Well, you're definitely not looking tired or ill at the moment! Thank you, Katy.

I write to friends in many different countries. It's really interesting to learn about their lives and their cultures and, of course, to go and visit them!

I started writing to my English friend, Tina, when I was thirteen. ¹_____ We both enjoy swimming but she's fast and I'm not! Also, she listens to a lot of rock music but I hate it. ²_____ I stayed with Tina's family last summer in their house in Manchester. They were very kind and they showed me lots of different places in England. I quite liked the cities of Liverpool and Birmingham. ³_____ Of course it's a big and busy city with lots of great shops but it's also got some beautiful parks where you can walk and sit in the sun. I enjoyed walking by the River Thames and looking at the Houses of Parliament and Big Ben, the famous clock.

The weather wasn't very good when I was in England and it rained a lot. ⁴_____ It was a fantastic day! I hope Tina can come to France to stay with me this year!

School for Orangutans!

Everyone needs to go to school. We need to learn things that can help us when we grow up. But what about animals?

People say that animals are born with instincts and know naturally how to survive. However, that is not exactly true.

Animals depend a lot on their mothers, at least for a short time, to teach them different skills. So, what happens when they have no mothers? For many baby orangutans in Borneo this is an enormous problem. Young orangutans are like human babies because they stay with their mothers for a long time. They learn lots of skills from their mothers before they can live by themselves. But a lot of orangutans are dying in Borneo because people are cutting down the rainforests where they live. Babies are losing their mothers and it is impossible for them to survive. The charity International Animal Rescue tries to save them.

Today in Borneo there is a special school for orphaned baby orangutans! Volunteers teach them all the things they need to learn. At Baby School they learn how to climb trees, what to eat and where to build nests to sleep safely. The good students go on to Forest School and later they return to the jungle. Humans aren't the same as mother orangutans but they give these lovable babies a real chance to live.

From: Lilly
To: Ania

Hi Ania,
thank you for your email. I'm also into animals, especially dogs. I've got a lovely dog. She's called Sunny and she was born in January. She was very small then, but now she's six months old and she's quite big!
She eats a lot of dog food. She loves going for walks so I take her every day after school. Last week I stayed after school for an extra Maths lesson so Sunny didn't go out. She wasn't very happy. Sunny is my pet but she's also my good friend. I always talk to her about everything!
Write about your pet, please.
Take care,
Lilly

- 4 I ran _____ the road to try to catch the bus.
- 5 My dad pointed _____ the tree. There was a bird's nest at the top of it.

An important message

It was quite late and I was in bed. Outside it was very dark and the weather was bad. The wind was loud in the trees. But my bedroom was warm and cosy. I put my headphones on to listen to my favourite music and started to read my book. I always listened to music and read before I went to sleep.

Suddenly the music stopped. I looked at my MP3 player. It was still switched on. Then a voice spoke quietly in my headphones. 'Get out of your bedroom. Now.' I felt a bit frightened. Who was it? I looked round. I was alone. My door was closed, the window was closed ... everyone was asleep, the house was quiet.

Then the voice spoke again. 'Get out. Now!' I was so scared that I dropped my book on the floor. Suddenly my room didn't feel warm and cosy. It felt scary. There were lots of dark places outside the circle of light from my bedside lamp.

'Now!' this time the voice shouted loudly. I pulled out my headphones quickly and jumped out of bed. I ran to the door and opened it. Behind me there was a very loud noise. I didn't look back. I ran down the corridor and down the stairs.

Then there was another very loud noise from upstairs and the cupboards in the hall moved. My mum and sisters ran down the stairs too. 'What's happening?' I screamed. My dad came down and pushed us all outside into the garden.

'Look,' he said and pointed up at my room. A large tree was on the roof. Part of it was in my room. The windows were broken. I don't know who it was but the voice in my headphones saved my life that night.

 - 4 Chrissy doesn't enjoy the free time activities she can do in her town. ☐
 - 5 Chrissy prefers living in the countryside to living in the town. ☐

I was born fifteen years ago in a village in the countryside. It's very small with just a few shops, a post office and a church. We had to travel for half an hour by car to do our shopping at a supermarket every week! I went to a village school and there were only sixty children in the whole school. I knew everyone and it was like a big family. Then two years ago my dad changed jobs and we moved to a really big town. I was very excited about it because I found life in the country quite boring! I couldn't buy fashionable clothes there and there wasn't a cinema or a night club! We sometimes went swimming at the leisure centre but there was nothing else to do.

Now, I would really like to go back to the countryside! Life in a big town is fun and we often go to museums, theatres and other interesting places but I miss the peace and quiet! There are always cars in our street, even at night and it's so busy in the shops. You have to wait for a long time to pay for things. My school is very, very big. There are hundreds and hundreds of students and I don't know all the teachers. When I leave school I want to go back and live in a quieter place!

 - b go to bed at different times.
 - c see her doctor.

Hi Ellie,
Your letter about sleep problems was very interesting. I've got a sleep problem too. It's a big one and I'm very worried about it. I'm a teenager. Many teenagers don't want to get up in the morning because they go to bed late at night. They sleep very well and can't wake up. My problem isn't about waking up, it's about going to sleep. I go to bed really early but then I don't fall asleep for hours. I am so tired the next day. Help!
Tanya

Hi Tanya,
Don't worry! You're not the only one with this problem. Teenagers have a lot of things to worry about. They have a lot of exams and school work. Sometimes they have problems with friends or their parents. Perhaps when you go to bed you can't stop thinking about the problems and then you can't sleep. You need to relax before bedtime. Sometimes it's a good idea to have a warm bath or listen to some music - not too loud! Don't spend a long time talking to your friends before bed - just get some peace and quiet. It's also important to have the same routine - go to bed and get up at the same time. The body likes that! Some teenagers take tablets to help them fall asleep - not a good idea!! It's a bad habit. And don't worry about not sleeping - that makes it worse!
Ellie

The best department store in the world?

Oxford Street in London is well-known for its big department stores. Selfridges is one of them. It is named after Harry Selfridge, an American man who came to London with his family in 1909. He opened his new store on 15 March and it immediately became very popular. But why was it so successful?

There were many reasons. At that time shoppers bought things because they needed to, not because they wanted to. Harry Selfridge wanted to change that. He wanted to make shopping more fun, more of an adventure than a chore. He wanted people to enjoy going round his department store. So he didn't keep all the items in cupboards or on shelves, he put them on counters for people to see. The shoppers could look and touch things and choose what they wanted. And Selfridge's motto was 'The Customer is always right!' This idea made the shopper more important than the seller.

The store was also an amazing building. It had a garden on the roof! And, of course there were the wonderful shop windows. People came to Oxford Street just to look at the scenes in the windows. He employed some of the best designers in Europe and even today Selfridge's windows are in magazines all over the world – especially at Christmas.

Harry Selfridge changed shopping for everyone with his new store. It isn't the cheapest place to go shopping but it is certainly one of the most beautiful and interesting stores in the world!

Harrod's is one of the most famous department stores in the world. A lot of celebrities have bought things there, even the Queen of England!

Harrod's is in Knightsbridge which is an expensive area of London. There are seven floors and 330 different departments! Harrod's employs more than 4,000 people and fifteen million customers visit the store every year. You can buy nearly everything there, from T-shirts to houses! In the 1970s people could buy unusual pets. They even sold lions! The store is very big today but when it started in 1849 it only had one room. Then it didn't sell very much – only tea and groceries.

In 1883 there was a bad fire in Harrod's but then the owners rebuilt it bigger and better than before. In 1898 it was one of the first places in the world that had an escalator.

- 6 Some _____ work very hard these days.

What was your dream?

What were your dreams and ambitions when you were a child? Are your dreams the same now? Nearly all children have a dream for the future. Sometimes they want to be like people they see on television or someone in their family. When I was a child I wanted to be a lawyer because I admired the lawyer in a TV drama! My sister wanted to be a princess!

A recent survey asked 11,000 seven-year-olds about their ambitions and the results were interesting. Most of them had definite ideas about their future careers. The most popular jobs included teacher, scientist, firefighter and police officer. In general boys wanted to earn a lot of money (a third of them wanted to become a footballer or sportsman) and girls preferred a job helping people, like a doctor or teacher.

Experts say that today's children have greater ambitions than their parents had and this is a very good thing. People who have a dream will work harder and have fewer problems. Sometimes those dreams aren't realistic and they change. Not every seven-year-old boy will become a rich and successful footballer! I didn't become a lawyer – and surprisingly, my sister didn't become a princess! But it is important to be ambitious. We all need to dream.

My new job

I'm Jade. I'm eighteen and I've just finished secondary school. I'm going to university in September to study Maths. A few months ago I decided to look for a summer job because I'll need some money when I'm at university! I looked online and I found an excellent job as a tour guide in my city. But it's an unusual tour guide job!

Usually a tour guide takes tourists to popular sights in a city and tells them about the history of the different places. I do that but I don't do it during the day. I do it at night! Every Monday and Thursday evening I take a small group of tourists to old buildings in the city. It's a 'ghost tour' and I tell them about the people who lived and died in the houses. I also tell them ghost stories about the places. We go in the dark without any lights and it's a bit scary! But the tourists love it and I love it too! It's much more interesting than working in a supermarket.

ABOUT ME
MY POSTS
CONTACT ME

I've seen quite a lot of films about survivors but my favourite is a true story about an English mountaineer called Joe Simpson. He climbed a very dangerous mountain, Siula Grande in Peru, in 1985 with his friend and partner Simon Yates. Joe and Simon wanted to be the first people to climb the West Face of the mountain.

When they started the weather was fine but then it changed. The two climbers reached the top successfully but then they had to get back down quickly because of the bad weather. Unfortunately Joe then fell and broke his leg. Simon tried to help his friend get down the mountain. He tied him onto a long rope but the weather got worse and he had to make a terrible decision. He had to cut the rope that was holding Joe or die.

Simon cut the rope and Joe fell into a big hole. Luckily Joe found a way out of the hole at the bottom. It took him three days to get down the rest of the mountain. With his broken leg he could only move very slowly. He had no food or water and when he got to the camp he was nearly dead. But he got there and he lived!

Joe wrote a book called 'Touching the Void' about the experience and in 2003 director Kevin MacDonald made a film with the same title. Since his adventure Joe has had lots of operations on his leg. Doctors told him never to climb again. But he has! He has also written several books and given lots of presentations about climbing. In my opinion 'Touching the Void' is the best film about survival that I've ever seen.

The wonderful FILMWORLD cinema is opening its doors December 1st in our town. There are six hi-tech screens and a great sound system, so you can really enjoy watching the films.

Cinema fans can choose from many ticket offers, e.g. Junior Movies for just £2.50 on Saturdays, Sundays and school holidays, as well as the Family Pass (£12 for a maximum of four people) and Student Tickets (£4). You can also buy an Unlimited Card to watch all films for just £20 per month. The card also gives you twenty per cent off cinema snacks and drinks.

In the cinema there is also one more surprise for all film lovers – a small shop with products inspired by films. So if you e.g. want to have an Ironman poster on your bedroom wall – this is the place to find it!

HELLO!

At my new school there are some rules. Everyone ¹ has to / can know them – they're very important!

All students ² have to / can't wear a uniform. But it's not bad because on Fridays we ³ can't / don't have to wear it. We ⁴ can / must wear our favourite clothes 😊

School starts at eight and we ⁵ mustn't / have to be late! Later, at half past twelve, we ⁶ don't have to / can have lunch in the school hall or the playground but we ⁷ can't / must eat in the classrooms. The lunch break is thirty minutes long so we ⁸ must / don't have to be back in the classroom at one.

There are rules but my school is fun. I love it!

THE WOLF AND THE CRANE

One day a Wolf, who was eating his dinner much too fast, swallowed a bone, which stuck in his throat and was really painful for him. He tried to get it out, but could not.

Just then he saw a Crane passing by. 'Dear friend,' he said to the Crane, 'there is a bone in my throat. You have a long neck; can't you try and pull it out? I can pay you well for it.'

'I can try,' said the Crane. Then he put his head into the Wolf's mouth, between his sharp teeth, and reaching down, pulled out the bone.

'There!' said the Wolf, 'I am glad it is out; I must be more careful another time.'

'I did what you asked, can you pay me now?' asked the Crane.

'Pay you?' cried the Wolf. 'Be thankful that I did not bite your head off when it was in my mouth. You should be happy with that.'

Sometimes we have to learn that kindness must be mixed with carefulness.

A Tina

I'm definitely a saver, not a spender. When I get my pocket money, I usually put it away and I wait for the sales. Of course, if I need something right away, I buy it the regular price, but first I browse the online shops and I compare prices. Of course, I only buy it when I find out which shop has the lowest price.

B Tim

Well, I don't think I'm great at saving money. Almost every time I get some cash, I spend it quite quickly on some food or entertainment with my friends. But I really hope that I can use my piggy bank and not spend everything right away. I need to do it now because I'm going to buy a new mobile and my parents told me I must do it myself.

C Christina

I'm not a fan of using cash, because I don't like carrying a wallet with me everywhere. That is why my parents opened a bank account for me and now I use a card when I want to pay for something. It's also very useful, because I earn money babysitting and my clients can send me the money.

To: Amanda Jones
Subject: Holidays

Hi Amanda,

Yesterday I was thinking about the camping trip in August. I'd love to go, but I don't know if I can afford it. My parents are paying for my football camp and it's quite expensive, so I don't want to ask them to pay for this camping trip as well. And they're planning a renovation in our kitchen, so they probably won't have the money anyway. I thought I could start working and earn the money myself. I don't have a lot of experience, but I learn fast, so if you know anyone who is offering a part-time job, will you let me know?

All the best,

Alex

Cloakroom Assistant at Alliance Hotel

If you are polite and friendly and can serve our guests with a smile, you can become our cloakroom assistant. You don't need experience because you can learn everything at our special course before you start.

It will be your job to:

- welcome guests,
- take and return coats, bags and umbrellas,
- keep the cloakroom area clean and tidy.

To apply, send your CV to office@alliancehotel.uk.

To: Suzie Smith

Hi Suzie,

I've just got an email from Alex. He says he doesn't have ¹_____ to go camping with us during the holidays. He doesn't want to ask his parents, so he thinks he could look ²_____. And guess what, I've found an ad for a cloakroom attendant at the Alliance Hotel. Isn't this the hotel that your dad works in? The ad says they are looking for a smiley and polite person (that's Alex, right?), the things you need to do aren't too difficult, and you don't have to have experience, because they'll ³_____ everything before you start working. So, can you ask your dad if he could help Alex? I'd really like Alex to go camping with us.

Let me know.
