HOW TO DRESS:

FESTIVAL FASHION

Welcome to our regular feature. This week we are looking at what people wear to music festivals.

Jo: Hi! I'm Jo Mack and I work as a fashion editor for Hip magazine. I think I must have the best job in the world because today I'm working at the Coachella music festival in California. The question I'm asking is 'What is the "Festival Look" this year?'. Ten thousand people are listening to music here and I believe the temperature is 32°. I know Radiohead are on later and I really want to watch them, but right now I'm speaking to people about what they're wearing and why.

- 3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS and look at the verbs in blue in Exercise 2. Which verbs describe an action and which describe a state?

GRAMMAR FOCUS

Dynamic and state verbs

- Most verbs have dynamic meanings. They describe actions: something 'happens'. You can use them with simple or continuous forms.
I work as a fashion editor for Hip magazine.
Today I'm working at the Coachella music festival.
- Some verbs have stative meanings. They describe states: nothing 'happens'. You cannot use them with continuous forms.
I believe the temperature is 32°. (NOT I'm ~~believing~~)

Note:

A few verbs (e.g. think, have, look) have both dynamic and stative meanings. The meanings are different:
I think I must have the best job in the world.
(think = believe → stative)
I'm thinking about going to see them.
(think = consider → dynamic)

- 4 1.6 Read and listen to Jo's interview with Anna. Decide which of the underlined verb phrases are state verbs and which are dynamic verbs.

Jo: Hi! I'm reporting on festival fashion for Hip magazine. I like your hat.

Anna: Thanks. I don't usually wear hats. But it's really hot, so I'm wearing this baseball cap. It belongs to my boyfriend. He doesn't need it because he isn't here today. He's revising for his exams!

Jo: Oh, that's a shame.

Anna: No, it's OK. My boyfriend hates festivals. He prefers listening to music at home. I really want to see Kings of Leon – I listen to their music all the time!

- 5 1.7 In your notebook, complete Jo's interview with Tom with the correct Present Simple or Present Continuous form of the verbs in brackets. Then listen and check.

Tom: Yes, I ² am having (have) a really good time.

Jo: I ³ love (love) your T-shirt.

Tom: Oh, thanks! It's my festival T-shirt!

Jo: Oh, it ⁴ looks (look) great. But why ⁵ are you wearing (you/wear) jeans? It's so hot!

Tom: My legs are very skinny and so I ⁶ never wear (never/wear) shorts, even in summer. In fact, I ⁷ don't have (not have) any shorts!

Tom: I ⁹ like (like) Foo Fighters, but I ¹⁰ don't know (not know) when they're on.

I ¹¹ am looking (look) for a festival programme.

Jo: I have one here – oh, they ¹² are playing (play) now.

Tom: Oh right – thanks! See you.

- 6 Look at Jo's interview with Tom again. Find two verbs with both dynamic and stative meanings and explain the differences in meaning.

- I wear (wear) my favourite T-shirt today.

Hi Karen,

I'm going on a cycling weekend. As an experienced cyclist, what do you think I should wear?

Hi Sam,

Lucky you! Take at least two ¹ ? shirts or T-shirts and suntan lotion for your arms. You need a pair of ² ? shorts – cycling damages shorts quickly, so invest in good ones. Lots of people wear black ones but I prefer ³ ? shorts and T-shirts so that car drivers can see you! A warm jacket – something that will keep you warm in the evening. A rain jacket that's made from ⁴ ? fabric. There's some amazing ⁵ ? technology out there in new fabrics for sports clothes. Oh, and don't forget your sunglasses! Have fun.

- 10 How do you say these compound adjectives in your language? How many of them can you use to describe clothes in your wardrobe?

ICONS of fashion

1.12

We think we look so cool, so modern and just a little rebellious in our jeans, white T-shirt and black leather jacket. But we're not as original as we think we are – this look goes back to the 1970s, right? Well, no, not exactly – as a matter of fact, you can trace most of it back to 100 years ago.

- 5 Take the white T-shirt and leather jacket. Both started life in the military. The T-shirt (so-called because of its shape like a T) was in fact underwear. In the American Navy, it was worn under a uniform. Until the early 20th century, underwear was woollen, but a revolution in textile production produced cotton jersey, a fast-drying fabric which fit tightly to the body and kept sailors warm. The short-sleeved T-shirt was born. Leather jackets were worn by fighter pilots
- 10 in the First World War – they were hard-wearing, warm and fur-lined for maximum protection from the elements. Then, in 1928, an American raincoat company, Schott, designed the first leather motorcycle jacket with a zip.

- By the 1950s both garments had reached iconic status when famous actors like Marlon Brando and James Dean wore them in films. Later, in the 1960s and 1970s bands from
- 15 the Beatles to the Ramones adopted the leather jacket, and it moved from motorcycle sports to teenage rebellion. In the 1970s T-shirts got a colourful update: brightly-coloured T-shirts were particularly popular as well as T-shirts with band logos and political slogans. Having started out as an undergarment for men, T-shirts became unisex in the 1970s and have been part of everyone's wardrobe since then.
- 20 You may think your fashionably distressed jeans are cutting-edge fashion items, but they can be traced even further back in history. In the 1800s denim, the material jeans are made of, was a kind of cotton made in Nîmes, France ('de Nîmes'). The first blue denim trousers were worn by sailors in Genoa – 'Gênes' in French. 'Bleu de Gênes' became 'blue jeans'.

Marlon Brando

The Ramones

- Blue jeans as we know them originated during the 1849
- 25 Californian Gold Rush. They were developed by German storekeeper Levi Strauss and Latvian tailor Jacob Davis. Levi Strauss never wore a pair of jeans himself – he was a wealthy businessman, and jeans were only worn by manual workers and cowboys. But then their popularity
- 30 spread after the Second World War. Young people started wearing jeans to imitate young Hollywood stars. However, they were associated with rebellious behaviour and were banned in schools.

- So each time you wear your jeans, white T-shirt and black
- 35 leather jacket, you're actually wearing 100 years of style history! The secret to their long life? They're comfortable, multi-purpose clothes made of natural materials that are easy to wear, keep you warm and give you a little attitude. What's not to love?

GLOSSARY

fur-lined – podszyty futrem
the elements – żywioły
a zip – zamek błyskawiczny

distressed – wytarty
originate – pojawić się
banned – zakazany

1 SPEAKING Look at the different versions of the Mona Lisa and discuss the questions.

- Which version do you like best? Why?
- What do you know about the original painting?

2 Read about the real Mona Lisa. Why does the curator think the Mona Lisa is smiling?

STOP ASKING SILLY QUESTIONS

My name is Henri Dubois. I've been working at the Louvre Museum in Paris for twenty-one years and I've been looking after the Mona Lisa for nearly ten. So, for the past ten years I've been watching people's faces when they first see the Mona Lisa. There's something very special about that painting. I've also been answering the same questions over and over again. They ask me, 'How long has she been hanging in the Louvre?' I always say the Mona Lisa has been in the Louvre since 1804. But it isn't quite true. The Mona Lisa hasn't been hanging in the Louvre since then because someone stole it in 1911. Fortunately the painting was returned two years later. The other questions are impossible to answer. They ask me: 'Who was she? Why is she smiling?' Why? Because she's been listening to people's silly questions for over two hundred years! Stop asking questions and look at the painting – it's beautiful!

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Then find six more examples of the Present Perfect Continuous in the text in Exercise 2.

GRAMMAR FOCUS

Present Perfect Continuous

You use the Present Perfect Continuous to talk about unfinished actions that started in the past and continue in time 'up-to-now'. Use for or since to say how long.

I've been working here for twenty-one years.

Present Perfect Continuous: has/have + been + -ing form

+ I've been working.

- He hasn't been working.

? Have you been working?
Yes, I have./No, I haven't.

Note: State verbs (be, have, know, etc.) do not take the continuous form.

The Mona Lisa has been in the Louvre since 1804.
(NOT has been being ...)

4 In your notebook, complete the dialogue between the Manager (M), a guest (G) and the guest's son Jack (J). Use the Present Perfect Continuous.

M: I'm sorry, the museum is really busy today. How long ¹ ? (wait)?

G: It's OK. We ² ? (not wait) long. We ³ ? (stand) in this queue for about twenty minutes.

M: Right. Well, I'll introduce you to Henri, our curator. He ⁴ ? (work) here for over twenty years.

G: Thanks. My son, Jack, is very excited. He ⁵ ? (learn) about Leonardo da Vinci at school.

M: Well, I'm sure Henri can answer any questions. He ⁶ ? (look after) the Mona Lisa for ten years.

J: Er ... How long ⁷ ? (the Mona Lisa/hang) in the Louvre?

5 In your notebook, write the sentences using the Present Perfect Simple or Continuous form of the verbs in brackets. Then add a time expression to make them true for you.

- I've had (have) the same computer for three years.
- I ? (study) English since ? .
- I ? (listen) to the same music since ? .
- I ? (go) to the same hairdresser's for ? .
- I ? (know) my oldest friend since ? .
- I ? (sit) in this chair since ? .

6 SPEAKING In your notebook, write questions for the sentences in Exercise 5 beginning with How long have you...? Then ask your partner.

How long have you had the same computer?

REMEMBER THIS

You use the Present Perfect Simple to talk about finished actions in time 'up-to-now'. You can say 'how many' but not 'when'.

Piotr has visited the Louvre seven times. He has visited twenty-seven other museums.

7 Which Present Perfect form is the most appropriate? Which sentences are true for you?

- I've seen / I've been seeing the Mona Lisa twice.
- My mum has bought / has been buying a new car.
- It's snowed / It's been snowing since yesterday.
- I've learnt / I've been learning the piano for years.
- We have never been going / have never been abroad.
- I haven't eaten / haven't been eating lunch yet.

8 SPEAKING In your notebook, write questions in the Present Perfect Simple or Continuous. Begin the questions with How long ...? or How many ...? Then ask your partner.

- messages / receive / today?
- wear / the same watch?
- have / the same bag?
- foreign countries / visit?
- books / read / in the past three months?

Fashion and the Human Form

In every period throughout history there have been specific ideas of what the perfect human body should look like. Different body types have gone ¹ ? and out of fashion just like clothes and hairstyles, and these ideals led to the ² ? of fashions. The ancient Greeks, who admired slim, athletic bodies, went for a casual look, with soft ³ ? and comfortable shapes. In Britain, the Elizabethans preferred women's clothes which forced their bodies into totally unnatural shapes, causing a lot of discomfort. During the early 19th century, Europeans believed that the Greek look was the best, and women's clothes became much more comfortable, but this did not last. The Victorians thought that a very small waist made women attractive, and women wore such tight garments they sometimes caused actual injuries. Nowadays, some of the most ⁴ ? designers make clothes that fit all shapes and sizes. But judging by all the diet plans, exercise programmes and plastic surgery procedures that are available, it seems that things ⁵ ? much.

Stella McCartney

When designer Stella McCartney arrived on the fashion scene, many people claimed her success was due to her famous name. Her father is, after all, Beatles legend Paul McCartney. This, however, is not true. For Stella, her achievements took hard work, determination and, of course, talent.

In 1995, after graduating from Central St Martins College of Art and Design in London, she enjoyed almost immediate success. Two short years later, at the age of twenty-six, she became the head designer at Chloé – a famous Parisian fashion house. After four highly successful years at Chloé, Stella launched her own fashion label and showed her first collection of cutting-edge designs in 2001.

Since then her company has been growing steadily. In that time, it has gained acceptance as a fashion company with a difference. When Stella was growing up on a farm, her parents taught her to respect animals, to be aware of nature, and to understand that human beings must get along well with other creatures. This down-to-earth approach has had a huge impact on her and, as a result, she believes in ethical fashion now. Ethical fashion covers issues such as working conditions, child labour, fair trade and responsible production that does not harm the environment.

As a lifelong vegetarian, Stella does not use any natural leather or fur in her designs. The fabric she prefers is organic cotton and she has been experimenting with eco-friendly materials and production processes. She always tries to find the most responsible production methods. Recently, Stella decided not to work with a fabrics factory because the process it used to colour the fabrics was very harmful to the environment. An entire river near the factory became red, making the water unsuitable for drinking or for use in agriculture.

Stella's ethical fashion also aims to help poor workers. For this reason, she has created a range of cloth bags together with the United Nations' International Trade Centre. The programme provides work for poor communities in Kenya, where the bags are created by hand. So far, 160 people in disadvantaged areas have been involved in the production. They are earning money, which has improved their lives.

Stella McCartney has an interesting philosophy. She believes designers should ask themselves how they make their clothes and accessories, where they make them, and what materials they use. Thinking about these questions makes designing more challenging and more interesting, but still allows designers to create luxurious, beautiful items that people want to buy. Stella McCartney is proof of that.

SPORTING QUESTIONS

Following news this week that the total number of teenagers taking up team sports has fallen, we're asking why so many people prefer individual sports. Sure, there are advantages: if you work out at the gym, you burn off calories and keep in shape and do it at a time that is convenient for you. But what about the friendship and the feeling of togetherness you get when you play for a team?

Are you a team player or do you prefer to do it alone?
Here's what our readers said.

Jordan, 16

Not everyone has the confidence or the ability to participate in team sports. I'm 16 and I like taking on new challenges, but I'm not good enough to get into my school football team.

Jack, 17

When I play tennis, it's just me against my opponent – it's quite lonely without teammates. When I'm preparing for a competition I just see my coach. When I compete in a tournament and I beat an opponent, there's just my family to cheer me on. I love tennis, I love winning matches, but I miss the sense of belonging you get in a team.

Sherri, 16

I prefer team sports, but sometimes it's difficult when you let your team down. Last year, I had such a lot of school work that I had to drop out of my basketball team halfway through the season. I felt terrible.

Megan, 17

I do an individual sport, karate, but I feel part of a team and I'm motivated to score points for my club. I go in for competitions, and when I came first recently, I felt it was for the club, not for myself. With the trainers, other club members and supporters, it's like a big family.

4 SPEAKING Discuss these choices with a partner. Which do you prefer and why?

From RAFA MY STORY

🔊 1.28

Chapter 1

The Silence of the Centre Court

Forty-five minutes before the game was scheduled to start I took a cold shower. Freezing cold water. I do this before every match. It's the point before the point of no return; the first step in the last phase of what I call my pre-game ritual. Under the cold shower, I enter a new space in which I feel my power and resilience grow. I'm a different man when I emerge. I'm activated.

After Titin, my physical therapist, had bandaged my knee, I stood up, got dressed, went to a basin, and ran water through my hair. Then I put on my bandanna. ¹ ? There's a practical point to it: keeping my hair from falling over my eyes. But it's also another moment in the ritual, another decisive moment, like the cold shower, when I am aware that very soon I'll be entering battle.

¹⁵ An official in a blazer walked in and told us it was time. Now I was supposed to hand over my bag to a court attendant for him to carry it to my chair. ² ? I don't like it. It's a break from my routine. I handed over my bag but took out one racket. I led the way out of the locker room, along corridors with photographs of past champions and trophies behind glass frames, down some stairs and left and out into the cool English July air and the magical green of the Centre Court.

Rafael Nadal was born in Spain in 1986. He began playing tennis at the age of three and turned professional at fifteen. Nadal has won seventeen Grand Slam titles including eleven French Opens and two Olympic gold medals. He beat Roger Federer in the longest final in Wimbledon history in 2008. He won Wimbledon again in 2010, and in 2011 he was named Laureus World Sportsman of the Year.

I sat down, took off my white tracksuit top, and took a sip from a bottle of water. Then from a second bottle. ²⁵ I repeat the sequence, every time, before a match begins, and at every break between games, until a match is over. A sip from one bottle, and then from another. And then I put the two bottles down at my feet, in front of my chair to my left, one neatly behind the other, diagonally aimed at the court. ³ ? It's a way of placing myself in a match, ordering my surroundings to match the order I seek in my head.

The last part of the ritual, as important as all the preparations that went before, was to look up and search for my family members among the blur of the Centre Court crowd. I don't let them intrude on my thoughts during a match – I don't ever let myself smile during a match – but knowing they are there, as they always have been, gives me the peace of mind on which my success as a player rests. I build a wall around myself when I play, but my family is the cement that holds the wall together.

- 2 Read Rob's blog entry. Did he enjoy the experience he describes?

22 December | by Rob

Last month, my girlfriend and I went to Austria and tried snowboarding. We'd both skied before, but snowboarding was a completely new sport for us.

We'd booked some lessons before we arrived, and on the first morning we hired our helmets, boots and boards. We were both feeling quite nervous, but very excited as we took the lift up the mountain. The first lesson was really challenging and we fell over A LOT! By the end of the first day, we were exhausted.

- 10 The following morning, our legs were aching and tired, but we didn't give up. After three days of lessons, we felt more confident and we were really starting to enjoy ourselves. On the fourth day, we tried a more difficult slope and I'm proud to say 15 I got all the way to the bottom without falling over.

By the end of the week, we'd both fallen in love with snowboarding and we didn't want to go home. Snowboarding requires determination, but I'd definitely recommend it. We can't wait for our next 20 winter holiday and the chance to do it all again.

Olympic Opening Ceremonies

The Olympic Opening Ceremony is always a highlight of the games. Read on to find out how different countries have used the ceremony to promote their cultures.

The opening ceremony of the Sydney games in 2000 explored Australia's history from the earliest days of Aboriginal culture.

¹ ? The show celebrated the great Australian landscape, the cities and the diversity of the people.

In 2004 the Olympics returned to their birthplace, and Greece presented a stunning picture of its history and achievements.

² ? This vision symbolised Greece as a tiny country with far-reaching ideas that changed the world.

China's ceremony in 2008 definitely scored a goal. An awe-inspiring display by 15,000 performers was almost military in its exactness. ³ ? For sheer size and precision, the Beijing ceremony seems impossible to beat.

Not surprisingly, the 2012 London ceremony was a total contrast. It replaced Chinese precision with British eccentricity and humour. Perhaps Queen Elizabeth II parachuting from a plane in the arms of James Bond seemed unrelated to the Olympic spirit, but it certainly made a statement about Britain!

- A While there were several mistakes during the show, on the whole it was an amazing display.
- B It is hard to imagine the training that had gone into keeping so many people in order.
- C It painted a picture of the energetic, multicultural country Australia has become.
- D Some Greek people thought hosting the Olympics was too expensive, but others saw big advantages.
- E As the centrepiece of the ceremony, the stadium floor filled with water and a young boy in a small boat sailed across it.

For some students, the journey to school is just a stroll around the corner or a short drive and the biggest problems they face are getting stuck in traffic jams during rush hour or public transport delays. For others, getting to school involves crossing deserts, rivers or dangerous urban neighbourhoods. They have to travel long distances on foot, or by boat, bicycle, rickshaw or sledge.

Next time you miss the school bus and feel like complaining about your journey to school, think about these schoolchildren who don't have access to buses or even roads.

Travels in America blog

We arrived in Seattle on an overnight ¹flight from London and picked up a car at the airport. The car hire was just a short bus ²ride from the terminal, and we were on the road just one hour after landing. We were excited about the ³drive along the West Coast to San Francisco. The ⁴journey took around 12 hours. Once we got to San Francisco, we went on a ⁵tour of the city by cable car. That was my favourite thing about this trip, although the ⁶cruise around San Francisco Bay was amazing too – we sailed around the Bay for three hours and visited Fisherman's Wharf and its sea lion colony. On another day we went to Alcatraz island. It's just a short ⁷crossing by boat from the mainland.

- 13 SPEAKING Choose five words from Exercise 11. In your notebook, write a question with each word. Then ask a partner.

*What's the longest flight you've ever taken?
When did you last go on a bike ride?*

- 14 PROJECT Work in groups. Imagine you live in a US city, e.g. Seattle or San Francisco, and are to show some friends around it. Do some research online and prepare a digital presentation about the city. Then present it to your class.

LION ON THE LOOSE IN ESSEX?

On Sunday evening at 8.00 p.m. a holidaymaker was walking to his caravan with his 11-year-old son when he believed he saw a lion. He told reporters, 'It was dark, but I could see a large animal. It can't have been a domestic animal – it was too big. I thought it might have been a lion. So we ran, very quickly!' The seaside resort was full of holidaymakers and at least ten people saw the animal. One woman said 'I heard a loud roar at 10.00 p.m. It must have been a lion. No other animal can roar like that.' Police have told everybody to stay inside as they believe a lion may have escaped from a nearby zoo.

- Travelling abroad for a year before going to university is a waste of time and money.

Can travel still broaden the minds of the smartphone generation?

2.11

No

Travel writer William Sutcliffe believes that smartphones have changed backpacking in a bad way.

I believe that travel ought to be a profound experience. By cutting us off from everything that has previously been familiar to us, travel challenges our beliefs and makes us see the world in new ways. But when so many relationships and social support networks are carried out digitally, and with every backpacker hostel from Machu Picchu to Dharamsala offering Wi-Fi, it's actually impossible for Millennials* to cut themselves off from home. What has this done to the nature of travel?

A modern traveller will probably be more concerned about whether their room has Wi-Fi than whether it has a bathroom. To be disconnected is unthinkable. But this means that they have one foot firmly planted at home at all times. I don't think you can consider this way of travelling as a journey of self-discovery.

Yes

Charlotte Johnstone, a Millennial, argues that her smartphone did not get in the way of life-altering travel experiences.

I took my gap year a couple of years ago, and I'm really glad I did, because it changed my life. The time I spent in India and Zambia were the hardest and most rewarding of my life. Despite the fact that I had my smartphone in my pocket, I really felt that I had immersed myself in a foreign culture, and I learned a lot about myself and the world around me.

So I think Mr Sutcliffe is uninformed when he belittles the experience of today's travellers. Of course, the way we travel has changed; the world around us has changed. It's unavoidable. There are lots of pluses: you can call home when something happens, book plane tickets on your phone, withdraw money from a cash point, even find hidden temples on Google Maps. And don't think that teenagers in remote Sub-Saharan African villages don't have Facebook accounts – they do, and you can stay in touch long after you have left.

Staying connected doesn't detract from travelling – independence doesn't necessarily have to be solitary and young people don't need to be cut off from home to explore the wider world and appreciate their place in it. Just as much as our parents' generation did, we Millennials want to watch the sun rise, make friends with like-minded strangers as we dip our feet into the waters of a deserted beach after an unpleasant overnight journey on two different buses. The values and aspirations are the same.

We also have to address the same challenges. Saving up for, planning and executing a gap year trip is hard work. During the trip – even if you are only a text away from your friends at home – you still have to learn how to budget, problem-solve and develop people skills in order to survive.

I've made a promise to myself: if I have children, I shall never tell them 'it's not like it was in my day'.

*Millennial – someone born between 1980 and 2000

Used to and would

I can talk about past states and repeated actions using used to and would.

1 SPEAKING Discuss whether you think the statements about road travel in the 1960s are true or false.

- Roads used to be quieter.
- People used to talk about traffic pollution.
- Cars didn't use to have seat belts.
- Children would play video games on long journeys.
- GPS didn't exist so people would follow maps.

2 2.14 Listen to Zoe's grandfather talking about road travel when he was young. Check your ideas in Exercise 1.

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS and answer the questions.

- Which sentences in Exercise 1 describe past actions?
- Which sentences in Exercise 1 describe past states?

GRAMMAR FOCUS

Used to and would

- You can use used to + verb or would + verb to talk about regular past actions that don't happen any more.

Harry used to go to school by bus. He didn't use to leave the house at 8 a.m.

- You can use used to + verb (NOT ~~would + verb~~) to talk about past states that are no longer true. (Usually with stative verbs: be, have, love, etc.)

Harry used to be a good student.

Note:

Don't use used to or would for single past actions.

In 1963 my granddad bought his first car. (NOT ~~used to buy~~ ... or ~~would buy~~ ...)

4 In your notebook, rewrite the statements using would. If would is not possible, use used to.

- Air travel was cheaper than now.
Air travel used to be cheaper than now.
- Air travel was more comfortable.
- The flight from London to New York took longer.
- People smoked on the plane.
- People wore their best clothes to travel by air.
- Airports didn't have so many security checks.

5 2.15 SPEAKING Which of the sentences in Exercise 4 do you think are true? Discuss with a partner. Then listen and check.

6 2.16 In your notebook, complete the text with the verbs in brackets.

- Use would + verb (where possible)
- Use used to + verb (where would is not possible)
- Use the Past Simple (where would or used to are not possible)

Then listen and check. Is the UK the only country where people drive on the left?

Left or right?

Today, 75% of cars drive on the right, but it ¹*didn't always use to be* (not always be) like that. In fact, everybody used to travel on the left! In Roman times, roads

² ? (be) dangerous and travellers

³ ? (carry) swords in their right hands.

Travellers on horses ⁴ ? (ride) on the left side of the road so that the right hand was free to use the sword. Then Napoleon ⁵ ? (change) the rule. Why? Because he was a revolutionary! Before the French Revolution, the aristocracy ⁶ ? (travel)

on the left and poor people ⁷ ? (stay) on the right. After the Revolution, the aristocracy joined the poor people on the right and driving on the right ⁸ ?

China, Portugal, Sweden and parts of Canada used to drive on the left and only changed the law during the mid-twentieth century. More than fifty countries including the UK, Australia, Japan and India still drive on the left today.

7 In your notebook, write six sentences about your life when you were ten. Use used to or would. Use the suggestions in the box or your own ideas.

USE OF ENGLISH

Phrasal verbs

I can understand and use separable and inseparable phrasal verbs.

- 1 2.18 Look at a photo of the Zapp family and listen to Jenny James talking about them. What do the numbers in the box refer to?

(2000 100 17 3 → 6 80 65)

- 2 2.18 SPEAKING Discuss the questions. Then listen again and check your ideas.

- What did the couple walk away from to go travelling?
- Where did they set off from?
- Why did they decide to carry on travelling?
- What do they do when they run out of money?
- Who sometimes put them up?
- Why did they put a tent up on the car roof?
- What did the car seats turn into?
- What happened when the car broke down?

- 3 SPEAKING Can you imagine your own family travelling around the world for seventeen years? Would it be a good experience for you and your siblings? Why?/Why not?

- 4 Read the LANGUAGE FOCUS. In your notebook, complete the examples using the phrasal verbs in bold in Exercise 2.

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Phrasal verbs – verb + particle(s)

When you are learning phrasal verbs you need to understand both the meaning and the grammar.

• Meaning

Sometimes the meaning is literal – they ¹ put a tent up (= construct or erect)

Sometimes the meaning is idiomatic – local people ² put them up (= let sb stay)

• Grammar

Some phrasal verbs are separable – they bring children up (= raise)

Some phrasal verbs are inseparable – the car seats ³ turn into a bed (= change)

• Separable phrasal verbs

If the object is a noun, it can come before or after the particle:

bring children up or bring up children

If the object is a pronoun it can only come before the particle:

bring them up but NOT bring-up them

- 5 In your notebook, match the phrasal verb dictionary entries in the box with definitions 1–7. How do dictionaries show whether phrasal verbs are separable or inseparable or don't take an object?

(drop sb off hold sb up keep up with sb head for sth pick sb up pull over turn up)

- pull over = stop in a car by the side of the road
- ? = take somebody in a car and leave them somewhere
- ? = go in the direction of somewhere
- ? = delay somebody
- ? = arrive at a place
- ? = collect somebody, usually in a car
- ? = go at the same speed as somebody

- 6 USE OF ENGLISH Which word A, B or C completes both sentences correctly?

- I'll drop you ? at the next bus stop.
Tell the driver where you want to get ?.
A over B off C in
- This car has never broken ? before.
She walked ? the steps into the sunshine.
A up B along C down
- When do you think they'll turn ??
Mum's picking me ? at midday.
A up B into C off
- Can I try ? your new motorbike?
Oh, no! We've run ? of petrol.
A for B on C out
- It's kind of them to put us ?.
I don't want to hold you ? – I know you're in a hurry.
A away B up C over

- 7 Write one false and two true sentences about yourself. Use a different phrasal verb in each sentence. Then read out your three sentences. Your partner guesses which one is false.

3.7

WRITING

Giving advice

I can write a personal email giving advice.

1 What advice a–c would you give in response to problems 1–3?

- 1 Should I go to university in my hometown, or in another city?
 - 2 I want to ask Katie on a date, but I'm too shy.
 - 3 Mum's worried about me camping overnight at the music festival.
- a If I were you I wouldn't ask her. She might say no.
 - b Tell her there are six of us. We'll look after each other.
 - c You should study at your local university and live with your parents.

2 SPEAKING Discuss how good the advice in Exercise 1 is. Think of an alternative solution for each problem.

3 Read Tim's message to his older brother Ben and answer the questions.

- 1 Which problem from Exercise 1 does Tim describe?
- 2 What advice would you give him?

4 Read Ben's reply. Did he mention any of the advice you thought of?

To: Tim

Subject: Re: How are you?

Hey little brother,

Having a great time back at uni. You should come and visit soon.

Congratulations on the offers – I'm really proud of you.

¹I understand what a difficult decision it is, but it's better than having no options! Can't believe you're going to uni already! Seems like five minutes ago we were playing Lego together!

²Have you thought about making a list of the pluses and minuses? E.g. if you study at home and live with Mum and Dad (plus or minus? ;-)), you won't have to do your own washing, cooking, etc. On the other hand, if you go to Edinburgh, you'll have to look after yourself, but you'll have your freedom. ³If I were you, I'd find out more about the courses as well.

⁴By the way, thanks for the mix – I played it at Scotty's party on Friday and everyone loved it. Great to have a DJ for a little brother :-)

I'm sure ⁵everything will be OK.

Hope to see you soon,

B.

To: Ben

Subject: How are you?

Hi Ben,

How's life back at uni? Having fun? Working hard? ;-)

I'm writing because I need your advice. I've been offered two places to study IT next year. One is here at the local university, and the other is all the way up in Edinburgh!

5 Which phrases in purple in the email (1–5) have a similar meaning to the phrases (a–e)?

- a Incidentally,
- b I can see why you are confused
- c things will work out fine
- d Why don't you make ...
- e It's a good idea to ...

6 Read the WRITING FOCUS and check your answers in Exercise 5.

WRITING FOCUS

Giving advice

- Start with general news and/or a reference to what your friend wrote in their last email.
I understand what a difficult decision it is.
I can see why you're worried/unhappy.
- Offer advice by asking a question
Have you thought about ... (making a list)?
Why don't you ... (talk to your friend)?
- Offer advice by making a statement
If I were you, I'd ... (find out more).
It's a good idea to ... (read about it online/ask a teacher you get on well with).
(See also Giving advice SPEAKING FOCUS p. 42)
- Change the subject and say something positive or give more news
By the way, thanks for ...
Incidentally, did you hear that ...?
- Reassure your friend at the end of the email
I'm sure everything will be OK.
I'm sure things will work out fine.

7 Look at the underlined phrases in the email. What do you notice about them? In your notebook, complete the LANGUAGE FOCUS with It, It's, I (x2) or I'm.

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Ellipsis

- In informal English, you can leave words out. This is called ellipsis. You usually leave out subject pronouns and auxiliary verbs at the beginning of a clause when the meaning is obvious:
Having a great time ... = ¹ ? having a great time ...
Can't believe you're going to uni ... = ² ? can't believe you're going to uni ...
Seems like five minutes ago ... = ³ ? seems like five minutes ago ...
Great to have a DJ for a little brother. = ⁴ ? great to have a DJ for a little brother.
Hope to see you soon. = ⁵ ? hope to see you soon.
- You can also leave out repeated words:
Feeling a bit tired but I always am. = I'm feeling a bit tired but I'm always tired.

8 Make this email more informal by removing seven words or phrases.

To: Carla

Subject: How are you?

Hi Carla,

Thanks for your email! I felt really sick last week but I'm getting better now thanks. Mum was worried, but she always is worried. I finally finished my essay, so that's good. My tutor was pleased! I can't believe it's nearly summer. I'm looking forward to being on holiday.

I'll see you next weekend,

9 Read the message from a friend. Decide which advice is a bad idea, which idea might work, and which is a good idea. Compare your ideas with a partner.

How r u? I'm :-(((Mum doesn't want me to go to the festival next weekend. Says she's worried about us camping overnight there. She said she could come with us to make sure we are safe!!!! LOL! What can I say or do to stop her worrying?

- 1 Forget about the festival. Your mum is right.
- 2 Just go for the day and come home in the evening.
- 3 Promise her you'll call before you go to bed and first thing in the morning.
- 4 Remind her that my big brother is coming. He'll look after us.
- 5 Ask your mum to come with us. It'll be fun.
- 6 Tell her you're staying at my house.

A Holiday to Help Others

Last summer, my friend Kara and I had a unique opportunity. Instead of going on a package holiday as we ¹ normally do, we decided to volunteer in Puerto Rico.

Our friends and parents said it could be dangerous as we had to ² the continent and we knew little about the place. However, we were determined to go. We went to a travel ³ who arranges holidays for volunteers and she organised everything.

We ended up in a mountain village in Puerto Rico which had been seriously damaged in a terrible storm. We stayed in a small hotel in the valley, so we had to cycle ⁴ to the village every morning. The ride was hard and the work was even harder, but it was very satisfying.

A couple of evenings a week we ⁵ a lift into the nearest town where we could have a delicious meal or go dancing with other volunteers. I have to say that Puerto Rican food might be the best I have ever tasted! We weren't ready to leave after two weeks, and our ⁶ home was a sad one. After this experience, I will never go on a usual holiday again.

STRANGE CELEBRITY DIETS

When I read about the weird and wacky diets of famous celebrities, I think that being in the public eye can make people a bit crazy. And it's nothing new – more than two centuries ago, the romantic poet Lord Byron wanted to be pale and thin, so he only ate stale, dry biscuits, soda s water and potatoes covered in vinegar – yuck! So sour! No wonder he died at the age of thirty-six!

Here's my list of today's top five strangest celebrity diets.

#5 Once, when Beyoncé was preparing for a video shoot, she went on a detox. This involved living on lemon juice, sweetened with maple syrup and made a little less 10 bland with cayenne pepper. Give that woman some chocolate cake!

#4 Gwyneth Paltrow, Jennifer Aniston and Reese Witherspoon choose the baby food diet which involves eating fourteen jars of baby food a day, and one low-calorie meal of lean meat or fish and green salad.

#3 American singer Jennifer Hudson thinks the Cookie Diet™ is more fun – instead 15 of breakfast, lunch and snacks, you have six biscuits. But these are not delicious, crunchy biscuits with milk chocolate on top. Dr Siegal, the inventor of the Cookie Diet, was careful to make his cookies taste good, but not too good.

#2 Katy Perry keeps in shape with the mushroom diet, but instead of enjoying a bowl of delicious mushroom soup, she swaps one meal a day with raw mushrooms 20 for fourteen days at a time.

#1 – MY FAVOURITE! Christina Aguilera does the seven-day colour diet, eating food of a different colour every day for a week. Day one is white, but that means white fruit and vegetables, not white bread or white rice! This is followed by red, green, orange, purple, yellow and on the seventh day, all of the colours. This diet 25 might encourage you to try new things, like deep-red cherries, ripe avocados or fresh figs, and you'd get plenty of vitamins. I think this is the only one I would actually try.

The Real Junk Food Project

Adam Smith is the founder of THE REAL JUNK FOOD PROJECT. He is passionate about collecting food that has been discarded by supermarkets, and transforming this wasted food into healthy nutritious meals.

Smith worked as a head chef for ten years and thought of the idea for The Real Junk Food Project when he was travelling in Australia and witnessed the scale of food waste in the agricultural sector and catering industry. The global statistics are shocking: roughly one third of food produced in the world for human consumption every year gets lost or wasted. Over 800 million people in the world (that's one in every nine people on Earth) do not have enough food to lead a healthy, active life. Smith founded The Real Junk Food Project to fill the gap between hunger and excess food, and to raise awareness about how much food goes to waste.

“Over 800 million people in the world (that's one in every nine people on Earth) do not have enough food ...”

Smith started the project and opened the first Real Junk Food café in his hometown Leeds in 2013. Since then, the concept has been exported as far away as Los Angeles and Brazil, Warsaw and Zurich. The idea is simple: volunteers go out and collect food from various sources: farms, restaurants, factories and supermarkets. Meals are produced and sold in cafés on a 'pay-as-you-feel' (PAYF) basis so that nobody is excluded. The cafés are for the community in general, not only for the poor. Those who can afford it pay what they think the meal is worth, while those who can't afford to buy meals from the café can earn their meals by volunteering – for instance, they can help with the washing up.

There is some controversy around the fact that some of the food served in The Real Junk Food cafés is past its sell-by date. Smith explains that chefs inspect the food and use their judgement to decide whether it is safe to eat. The food is cooked in accordance with official government standards, and cafés are inspected regularly by the environmental health department. They've fed over 10,000 people and nobody's been ill yet! Anything that isn't fit for human consumption goes to feed animals or as compost on vegetable gardens.

Smith believes that change needs to happen immediately and on a local level. Too many people are completely uneducated about food, and this was the incentive for setting up an educational branch of The Real Junk Food Project called Fuel for School. The initiative has two aims – to get breakfast to every hungry schoolchild in the country and secondly, to teach children the value of food so that they can reduce the amount of leftovers in their own homes. The idea is that if children know what they're eating, where it's come from and how it's prepared, they develop an engagement with food and life skills for the future.

Asking for information

I can write a formal email to request information.

Manchester
School of Cookery

Dear Miss Read,

We are delighted to inform you that you have won first prize in our 'Ideal School Meals Competition'. The menu you suggested represents an ideal combination of healthy and exciting food. Your prize is a place on one of our 'Teen Cuisine' weekend cookery courses for teenagers at the Manchester School of Cookery. For more information, please contact Diane Walsh at d_walsh@cookeryschool.com and include details of any cookery experience you may have so that we can place you in the correct group.

Yours sincerely,

Diane Walsh

- 1 Read this extract from a letter. Is it formal or informal? In your notebook, write three questions you would ask about the prize mentioned in the letter.
- 2 Read Mia's reply. Does she ask any of your questions in Exercise 1?

¹Hi Diane,

Thanks for your letter telling me that I have won the competition.

²I'm very happy and I ³can't wait for the 'Teen Cuisine' experience.

I am ⁴getting in touch to ask for more information about the course.

I have lots of questions that I want to ask.

First, what are the dates and times of the next course? Also, do I need to bring anything with me? I do not have my own special clothing or kitchen stuff.

You asked about cookery experience and in fact, I have never done a cookery course before. However, we did have some cookery lessons at school and I do quite a lot of cooking at home. You mentioned placing me in the correct group, but ⁵you didn't say which levels are available.

Thank you once again for choosing my menu as the winner.

⁶Write back and answer my questions soon.

Yours sincerely,

Mia Read

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Indirect questions

You can use indirect questions to be more polite:

Direct: ¹ ?

Indirect: Could you tell me what the dates and the times of the next course are?

Direct: ² ?

Indirect: I would also like to know whether I need to bring anything else.

Note: The word order in indirect questions is the same as in affirmative statements.

You use if/whether for yes/no questions. You don't use do, does or did.

8 In your notebook, write indirect questions using the question beginnings in brackets.

- What time do I have to arrive?
(Could you tell me ...)
- Is the school near the station?
(Can you tell me ...)
- How many students are there on the course?
(I would like to know ...)
- Do you offer accommodation on campus?
(Could you tell me ...)
- Do students get a certificate at the end?
(I would like to know ...)

9 In your notebook, rewrite Mia's email request for further information using indirect questions where possible.

Dear Ms Walsh,

Thank you for your email and for sending details of the different kinds of accommodation on offer. I have thought about all the possibilities, and I have decided that I would like to stay with a host family, please. I have got a few questions about meals. Will I have breakfast and dinner with the host family or only breakfast? I am vegetarian so can the host family provide vegetarian meals?

As for the payment to the host family, do I have to pay in advance? And if so, can I do a bank transfer, or would they prefer cash?

I would like to cycle to school from the host family, but that depends on the distance. How far is the host family from the school? Alternatively, is there a bus?

I hope to hear from you soon.

Yours sincerely,

Mia Read

NO MORE SHOPPING?

One of the hottest trends in the food industry is delivering boxes of fresh food to people's homes. The problem right now is the large number of new companies offering this type of service. In fact, there are so many new delivery services that it is increasingly hard to know which to choose.

One growing trend is delivering all the fresh ingredients you need to make a three-course meal. You'll receive the correct amount of ingredients and step-by-step instructions. For those who have little time for shopping but like to cook, this can be an ideal solution.

Another option is to get a week's supply of local, organic vegetables, eggs and even meat delivered to your door. This is great for the environment, since no chemicals are used, little transport is needed and the food is good for you. The downside is that what they deliver sometimes depends on what is available, so you don't always get what you want. Even the freshest Brussels sprouts are no use if your family refuse to eat them.

One other approach, which has been around longer, is having specific goods such as frozen food, dairy products or meat brought to your home. A company which delivers frozen vegetables and meat has been operating in the US for decades, and many households rely on the service. It is certainly convenient, and deliveries do not happen so often which is also a bonus.

- A A positive move in several ways but with a risk.
- B A good choice even if you love shopping.
- C How to decide which service is best for you?
- D A less frequent and longer-lasting option.
- E Best for the enthusiastic cook who can't get to the shops.
- F It may not be as fresh as you think.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Word families

- 9 3.4 Copy the table and complete it with some of the words used in the quiz. Use your dictionary if necessary. Then listen, check and repeat.

2 depth	deepen	  ?
3 height	heighten	  ?
4 length	lengthen	  ?
5 strength	strengthen	  ?

Wide is used to measure the space between two points – it's more concrete than broad, e.g. How wide is it? a wide road, wide open ...
Broad is used more to describe the thing that fills the space – it's more abstract, e.g. broad-minded, broad shoulders ... NOT How broad is it?

- 1 What was the world population in 1900? What is it now? What will it be in 2050?
- 2 What is the biggest change in where people live?
- 3 What are 'megacities'?

The world's growing problem

A famous scientist said recently that there's a growing problem in the world, and the problem is people – there are just too many of us! Because of economic growth, food has improved, healthcare has improved and people are living longer. During the twentieth century, the population of the world grew from 1.65 billion to 6 billion. Today it is 7.6 billion and by 2050 it is predicted to reach 9.7 billion. For the first time in history, more people live in cities than in the countryside. Across the globe there are 31 megacities – cities with more than 10 million inhabitants – and by 2030 the United Nations predicts the total will be 41. Megacities are more common in Asia, particularly in India and China. The biggest megacity is still Tokyo with a population of 38,140,000.

A Walk in the Woods

by Bill Bryson

We hiked till five and camped beside a spring in a small, grassy clearing in the trees just off the trail. Because it was our first day back on the trail, we had plenty of food, including cheese and bread that had to be eaten before they went off or were shaken to bits in our backpacks, so we rather gorged ourselves, then sat around chatting lazily until numerous little flying insects drove us into our tents. It was perfect sleeping weather, cool enough to need a sleeping bag but warm enough that you could sleep in your underwear, and I was looking forward to a long night's sleep – indeed was enjoying a long night's sleep – when, at some dark hour, there was a sound nearby that woke me up suddenly. Normally, I slept through everything – through thunderstorms, through Katz's snoring – so something big enough to wake me was unusual. There was a sound of breaking branches, something heavy pushing through the trees, and then a kind of loud breathing noise.

I sat straight up. Every neuron in my brain was awake. I reached for my knife, then realized I had left it in my backpack, just outside the tent. After many quiet nights, I was no longer worried about having to defend myself in the night. There was another noise, quite near.

'Stephen, you awake?' I whispered.

25 'Yup,' he replied in a tired but normal voice.

'What was that?'

'How should I know.'

'It sounded big.'

'Everything sounds big in the woods.'

30 This was true. Once a skunk had come through our camp and it had sounded like a stegosaurus. There was another noise and then the sound of drinking at the spring. It was having a drink, whatever it was.

I moved on my knees to the foot of the tent, carefully opened the entrance and looked out, but it was pitch black. As quietly as I could, I brought in my backpack and with the light of a small flashlight searched through it for my knife. When I found it and opened it I was shocked at how small it looked. It was perfectly suitable for, say, putting butter on pancakes, but useless for defending oneself against 400 pounds of hungry bear.

Carefully, very carefully, I climbed from the tent and put on the flashlight, which shone a disappointingly feeble light. Something about fifteen or twenty feet away looked up at me. I couldn't see anything at all of its shape or size – only two shining eyes. It went silent, whatever it was, and stared back at me.

'Stephen,' I whispered at his tent, 'did you pack a knife?'

'No.'

50 'Have you got anything sharp at all?'

He thought for a moment. 'Nail clippers.'

Text 2

HOW TO SURVIVE A BEAR ATTACK

You're more likely to die from a bee sting than you are to be killed by a bear, but in the unlikely event of meeting a bear in the wild, here are a few tips.

5 The best way to survive a bear encounter is to never have one. This is not too difficult because most bears just want to be left alone.

Bears often want your food, so if you're camping in bear territory, make sure you store your food carefully, at least 100 metres from your tent.

To avoid surprising a bear in the wild, make a noise as you walk, sing loudly, clap your hands. Never get between a female bear and her cubs.

If you do come face to face with a bear, don't turn your back and run – you're acting like prey. Stay calm and walk backwards and slowly take out your pepper spray – it's better than a gun. If the bear runs towards you, aim the spray just above the bear's head. It almost always works!

20 If the bear keeps coming towards you, lie down on your front with your hands over the back of your neck to protect it, and pretend to be dead. Don't move for at least twenty minutes.

GLOSSARY

cub – młode (np. niedźwiedzia)

 10 a tree, where he was protected from the sun. For the rest of the day she watched over him, brushing him gently with her trunk every so often.

- 5 something hit him from under the water. Todd knew immediately that it was a shark. He got back on his board but the shark bit him on the back. Todd's friend saw the huge shark and at first thought it was a whale. Todd was kicking the shark with his free leg, and didn't see the dolphins. Suddenly, the shark let go
 10 of his leg. The dolphins had surrounded the injured surfer and were protecting him from the shark. Three friends helped Todd get back on his board and reach the beach. A helicopter transported him to hospital. Six weeks later Todd was back in the water.

A 'for and against' essay

I can present and support arguments in a simple discursive essay.

- 1 SPEAKING Discuss which of these things it would be most difficult to live without.

(electricity medicine school shops running water)

- 2 Read the essay on contacting rainforest tribes and answer the questions.

- 1 How many arguments for and against the topic does the writer give?
- 2 What is your personal opinion on the topic in the essay?

1 Nowadays, many of us live in a world of high technology and instant communication. For most people, it is hard to believe that, in places like the Amazonian rainforest, there are still tribes who have never had contact with the outside world. Some people think that we should make contact with such groups, but others believe they should be left alone.

2 On the one hand, there are several arguments for making contact. First of all, the people in these tribes could enjoy a better standard of living. For example, they could get access to electricity and running water. Furthermore, their young people could go to school and benefit from a modern education. They would probably be amazed to learn about modern technology and life in other parts of the world.

3 On the other hand, there are also many arguments against making contact. Firstly, after contact, many tribal people suffer and die from diseases that do not exist in the forests where they live. Next, history shows that they often join larger society at the lowest level. For instance, many become beggars or tourist 'attractions'.

4 To sum up, there are clearly strong arguments for and against making contact with rainforest tribes. Personally, I think they should be left alone to continue their traditional way of life until they choose to make contact with the outside world.

Tourist trap

As travel to remote and exotic locations becomes more affordable, there is a growing demand for trips to developing countries that haven't been considered as holiday destinations until now. This can have both positive and negative effects on the countries.

¹*For example / First of all*, let's look at some positive effects. Tourism can bring wealth to developing countries. ²*In my opinion / For instance*, jobs are created and tourists use local shops and businesses. ³*However / Secondly*, tourism encourages traditional customs, festivals and local handicrafts. ⁴*On the other hand / Furthermore*, communication between local people and tourists promotes better cultural understanding.

⁸*In conclusion / For instance*, tourism must be managed carefully in developing countries. ⁹*Personally, I think / Furthermore*, tourists need to be more respectful of the local culture and environment.

Some people disagree. ⁴ _____, they say that those destinations may rely on tourism income.

⁵ _____ hotels, restaurants and taxi drivers will struggle to survive. ⁶ _____, people want to go back to normal as soon as possible.

Some tourists may want to help. ⁷ _____, it's important that they do it through an organisation.

⁸ _____, my parents should do some research before they go and find out what the local people think.

- 2 3.18 Listen to the headteacher and two students discussing the three logos. Which logo do they choose and why?

- 3 3.18 Read the SPEAKING FOCUS. In your notebook, complete the dialogue with one word in each gap. Then listen again and check.

HT: So, what do you think of these three designs?

S1: Personally, I think they're all great. The three logos focus ¹ ? the environment. Logos 2 and 3 are attractive and amusing. But I think the best option would be logo number 1 ² ? it has a serious message about learning.

S2: I agree, but the ³ ? with logo number 1 is that it doesn't mention 'Eco School'. Logo number 2 looks attractive, but it doesn't ⁴ ? school or learning. So ⁵ ? choose number 3 because it's clever and simple.

S1: Personally, I wouldn't ⁶ ? for number 3. I'd definitely ⁷ ? logo number 1 because it's ⁸ ? effective ⁹ ? the other two, and the message is clear. The words suggest that we are responsible for the future of the planet.

HT: ¹⁰ ? of these three logos, I'd choose logo number 3. I ¹¹ ? choose the logo showing vegetables because it doesn't look serious. I like logo number 3 for two reasons. ¹² ? , because the glasses suggest learning and ¹³ ? , because I think we need the words 'Eco School' in the logo. So let's go for number 3. I'll call the designer ...

WSKAZÓWKA

Po przeczytaniu całego tekstu przyjrzyj się słowom podanym w nawiasach i zastanów się, jakimi są częściami mowy. Następnie zdecyduj, jaką część mowy należy utworzyć od każdego z tych słów, tak by poprawnie uzupełnić daną lukę. Pamiętaj, że czasami musisz utworzyć słowo o przeciwnym znaczeniu do podanego, np. ripe → unripe.

ECOLOGICAL TOUR

It may be true that travel can ¹ ? (BROAD) the mind, but going on an ecological tour can ² ? (DEEP) your knowledge in ways that simple tourism can't do. For example, I went on a tour of the Amazon River which taught me a lot about the damage we are doing to the planet. I also realised why some people have such ³ ? (STRENGTH) arguments for environmental protection. It was an amazing holiday and although we didn't travel the entire ⁴ ? (LONG) of the Amazon, we saw trees of an amazing ⁵ ? (HIGH) that may one day disappear from our planet. Because of the ⁶ ? (WIDE) of the river it is sometimes called a sea and it is home to hundreds of plants, animals and fish. I can't imagine one day waking up and finding that all of this life is gone.

Life in Medicine – Three Snapshots

 3.30

If you like surprises, and can face dealing with accidents, injuries, births and deaths, medicine is for you. For those of you considering a career in medicine, three people give a snapshot of their medical life.

A Dr Richard Young told us about the more unusual and unexpected locations where he's used his medical skills.

'I'm a doctor, and I work in a doctor's surgery where I treat patients, write prescriptions, and generally help people recover from illnesses and injuries. But that's only part of the story!

- 5 I've given people first aid in public places several times – once I helped a man who collapsed in a park. Another time, a teenager was suffering from a nut allergy.

- On flights, nervous passengers often have panic attacks and doctors are asked to calm them down. When I hear
- 10 "Is there a doctor on board?" I always offer my help. Once, on a flight from London to Los Angeles I helped a woman who was seriously ill. I spent the twelve-hour flight caring for her. I stayed with her after we landed until the ambulance arrived, which meant that I missed
- 15 my connecting flight, but I was happy to help. In my job, saving lives must come first, even when I'm off duty.'

B Some nurses choose to work in extreme conditions, like war zones. Senior nurse Sonia Costa spent two months in Yemen as part of a Doctors without Borders* emergency team.

'I decided to work in Yemen because, as a result of war, there was a cholera epidemic and over 620,000 people were suffering from the disease. In places where there's no clean food or water, people catch diseases easily.

- 5 I worked on the children's ward and one of my patients was a six-month-old baby boy who was so ill that he looked like a two-week-old. Each morning, I arrived at the hospital, afraid that I may not see the child in his bed. But finally, he started gaining weight and when he was well enough to go
- 10 home, I was the happiest nurse in the hospital.'

*Doctors without Borders, also known as Médecins Sans Frontières, is an international organisation helping people in war zones and developing countries.

- 4 a flu/a ? epidemic
- 5 a muscle/a ? pain
- 6 a local/a ? surgery
- 7 a rescue/an ? team
- 8 a maternity/a ? ward

C Unpredictability is a daily reality for paramedics. Sally James says there is no such thing as a typical day.

'I work a twelve-hour shift. I never know when I might have to try and save someone's life, but I stay calm, because if I panic, everybody else gets anxious too.'

Some days, nothing dramatic happens. The most common call is stomach pain, and we get a lot of non-emergency calls like toothaches or shaving cuts or people who say they've burned themselves on their hair straighteners, which is annoying, but we have to take them seriously. While we're dealing with these time wasters, we may get a call from someone who really needs us, but there's nothing we can do about it.

We're not doctors, but we're highly trained to deal with serious conditions like heart attacks. But my favourite thing is delivering a baby. If I can start my day by getting someone's heart beating again, and end it with childbirth, I'm happy.'

- 5 Use appropriate collocations in Exercise 4 to answer the comprehension questions. Then check your answers in the text.

- 1 Where does Dr Young usually treat patients?
- 2 What did he once treat a teenager in a restaurant for?
- 3 Why did Sonia Costa decide to work in Yemen?
- 4 Which ward did she work on in the hospital?
- 5 What kind of calls does Sally James get annoyed with?

Third Conditional

I can talk about hypothetical past results of a past action using the Third Conditional.

- 1 3.34 Read and listen to an incredible survival story. What two decisions did Simon Yates have to make? Do you think he made the right decisions?

DECISION TIME

In 1985, two young climbers, Joe Simpson and Simon Yates, were the first climbers to climb the west face of the Siula Grande mountain in the Andes. But as they were coming down the mountain, Simpson fell and broke his leg badly. Yates had to make a terrible decision – should he leave his friend or should he try to get him down the mountain. He chose the second option. If he had left his friend, Simpson would have died. Yates tied himself to Simpson with a rope and they slowly came down the mountain together. Then disaster

10 struck again. Simpson fell and was hanging over a cliff. Yates couldn't hold him. He found his penknife and decided to cut the rope. Simpson fell twenty-five metres. Yates returned to base camp alone. He was sure Simpson was dead. But he also knew that if he hadn't cut the rope, he would have fallen and 15 died too. Miraculously, Simpson didn't die. He pulled himself slowly along the ground with a broken leg for three days and nights. He arrived back at base camp just in time. Yates would have already left if Simpson had arrived a few hours later.

2 Answer the questions about the story.

- Why didn't Yates leave Simpson when he broke his leg?
- Why did Yates cut the rope?
- Why did Simpson arrive at base camp 'just in time'?

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Find the three Third Conditional sentences in the story. Do you always begin a Third Conditional sentence with If?

GRAMMAR FOCUS

Third Conditional

You use the Third Conditional to talk about the imaginary past result of an imaginary past event.

imaginary past event if + Past Perfect,	→	imaginary past result would/wouldn't have + Past Participle
... if he hadn't cut the rope, he		would have fallen and died.
(real past event: he cut the rope	→	real past result: he didn't fall and die)

4 In your notebook, complete more Third Conditional sentences about the story.

- If Simpson hadn't fallen (not fall), he ? (not break) his leg.
- If Simpson ? (not break) his leg, the climbers ? (come down) the mountain without a problem.
- If Yates ? (be able) to hold Simpson, he ? (not have to) cut the rope.
- Yates ? (not be able) to cut the rope if he ? (not find) a penknife.
- Yates ? (not leave) Simpson on the mountain if he ? (know) he was still alive.

5 Read about three more incredible survival stories. Use your imagination and in your notebook write Third Conditional sentences to describe alternative outcomes for each story.

- A In 2003, Aron Ralston went hiking alone in a canyon in Utah. He trapped his arm under a rock and couldn't move. He had a penknife. He cut off his own arm. Ralston survived.
- B In 1996, Pete Goss was leading a round the world yacht race. During a terrible storm, he got an emergency call. Another competitor – Raphaël Dinelli – was in trouble and Goss's boat was the only one in the area. Goss turned back. He saved Dinelli's life but lost the race.
- C In 1972, the pilot of a plane carrying a Uruguayan rugby team miscalculated his position and crashed 3,600 metres up in the Andes. The plane was white and the rescue teams couldn't see it. There was no food and the survivors had to eat their dead teammates. Only sixteen people survived.

A If Ralston had been hiking with a friend, his friend would have helped him.

6 SPEAKING Compare your sentences in Exercise 5 with a partner. Which story do you like best?

The city council is planning to build a youth centre to encourage young people to keep fit, learn new skills and socialise in a safe environment. The plans include a café, a games room and a gym, and the centre will offer evening and weekend courses in subjects such as first aid, cookery, yoga and dance. If you are aged between fourteen and eighteen and have any comments or suggestions, please send them to us at b_y_c_citycouncil.com

2 Read Harry's email. Which of your suggestions in Exercise 1 does he mention?

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to express my support for the plans to build a youth centre in our town. Surprisingly, there are no such facilities for young people in our town at the moment, and so I believe it would be popular with young people like me and my friends. Interestingly, the Council brought out a similar plan two years ago, but unfortunately it did not go ahead. Naturally, we are hoping that this time, it will really happen.

Firstly, I strongly agree that we need encouragement to keep fit. Clearly, lack of exercise can lead to weight problems and even illness amongst young people. As well as the gym and the planned classes, perhaps the centre could also offer classes in aerobics and martial arts. Fortunately, these activities do not require expensive equipment and should be easy to set up.

Young people are very busy at school. As a result, we don't have time to learn practical skills such as first aid and cookery. Sadly, these are not subjects that we can study at school, so I am totally in favour of having them at the youth centre, and I would like to suggest offering classes in other useful skills such as bike mechanics and road safety. Hopefully, the Council will keep fees low so that young people can afford these courses.

Finally, I support the plans to include a café and a games room because this would mean that, instead of hanging around on the streets, we would have a safe place to relax and socialise. Our parents are very keen on the idea too.

To sum up, I think the youth centre is an excellent idea. I hope the council will go ahead with its plans and will consider my additional suggestions.

Yours faithfully,

Harry Turner

- 6 Read the letter opposing the plans for the new youth centre. Which adverbs are the most appropriate?

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing on behalf of the Green Park Housing Estate to express my disapproval of plans for a new youth centre. ¹Surprisingly / Fortunately, the council have not consulted the people who live in the area. We feel that there are several reasons why this project should not go ahead.

²Probably / Naturally, we are not opposed to plans for building a youth centre in our town. ³Unfortunately / Understandably, the council need to provide a safe place for young people to meet. However, they have chosen a location that is in the middle of a housing estate where local residents will be disturbed by the noise.

Secondly, we feel that a youth centre should have some green spaces around it. ⁴Interestingly / Clearly, the suggested location doesn't have any green space for young people to relax or play sports.

To sum up, we agree with the council's plans to build a youth centre, but we disagree with the location. We were against similar plans two years ago, but you are still suggesting the same site. ⁵Understandably / Hopefully you will agree to consider other locations this time.

Yours faithfully,

Mavis Davies

VEGETABLES AND VITAMINS

I don't think I was a particularly fussy eater as a child. Like many children, I simply didn't like vegetables. After eating my meat and potatoes quickly, I would stare bitterly at the vegetables left on my plate. If they had simply disappeared, I ¹ very happy. Instead, I had to sit at the table until my plate was clean. At that time I didn't know that my mum wanted me to eat vegetables to make sure that I was getting all the vitamins I needed. She was so afraid that I would develop a serious ² that, every now and then, she made an appointment at the doctor's and asked him to do a blood test on me. Blood tests were even worse than broccoli, as I've been afraid of needles all my life. Even today I wish my mum ³ so concerned about me. After all, I'm a perfectly healthy adult. A few days ago, I found a book about the history of science. I couldn't ⁴ when I found a chapter explaining that some 100 years ago people didn't know anything about vitamins! It was a Polish-born scientist, Kazimierz Funk, who formulated the concept of vitamins in 1912. It was a great discovery, but I keep thinking that if Funk ⁵ vitamins, my mum wouldn't have made me eat all those vegetables.

ALL ABOARD THE SMILE TRAIN!

Smile Train is a charity that is dedicated to helping the millions of children around the world, including in India, who suffer from facial defects. The defects occur when a baby's top lip or mouth doesn't form properly before birth. Eating and drinking are very difficult for these babies, and their families are often unable to cope with the problem. The charity provides free surgery, which gives these children a new smile and, with it, new hope and a new beginning. Children with the defects certainly need all the help they can get. Although many sufferers are accepted by their families, sadly, others are not. In India children with the defects are often abandoned at birth because their parents feel ashamed of them or cannot afford the surgery that will improve their lives. The good news is that the surgery which can change a child's life forever is not complicated, takes only 45 minutes and costs the family nothing, thanks to Smile Train. The charity raises money to buy medical supplies and finds the right medical volunteers to perform the surgery. A Smile Train doctor from the UK said, 'Each child who has surgery is given a second chance at life. After years of living their lives in isolation, the children can finally go to school and be happy. Every year I go to India, where I have performed hundreds of operations free of cost through Smile Train. I cannot describe the satisfaction and joy I feel when I help a child. I know that I am making a real difference in the world and that is more important than making money all the time.' The doctor continued, 'There are many benefits, and not just for the child. The family no longer feels shame and it's good for the medical community too. Experienced doctors like me share our skills with local doctors. In this way, we make sure that this surgery will always be available'.

Hi Emma,

Not only that, in some places, their parents are very poor or feel ashamed, and often decide ³ ? at birth. And that's where the Smile Train charity comes in. It finds and brings in medical volunteers to perform operations which parents ⁴ ? for. The surgery is quite short and simple but it gives the child a new smile and completely changes their life. One British doctor who works with Smile Train believes that apart from the child, the surgery has advantages for both ⁵ ? .
I found this article really interesting – if you want, I can send you a link.

Reported Speech – statements

I can talk about what other people have said using Reported Speech.

- 1 SPEAKING Discuss whether you like the painting. Is it possible for a three-year-old child to paint something like this? Read the text and find out.

They said she was a genius

When Marla Olmstead was three years old, a woman saw one of her paintings in a coffee shop and asked how much it cost. Marla's mother wanted to keep the painting so she told her that it cost $250. The woman bought it! After that a gallery owner started showing Marla's paintings. He told her parents that their daughter was a genius. Her paintings began to sell for thousands of dollars. But not all of the attention was positive. Art critics pointed out that a child could not produce those paintings. One critic suggested that her father had painted them.

A TV channel contacted Marla's parents and told them that they wanted to film their daughter the following week. They explained that they wanted to prove that Marla was not a fake. Marla's parents said that their daughter would be uncomfortable in front of the cameras, but the TV director told them not to worry. He added that he was going to use a hidden camera.

Over the next few days, Marla did a painting, but it was not as good as her other paintings. Her critics claimed that this proved someone else finished her paintings. The customers replied that they didn't care who had done them – they liked them anyway.

- 2 Who in the story said sentences 1–7?

some art critics the TV director one critic
Marla's parents the customers a TV channel

- 7 4.8 In your notebook, write the forms of the verbs in Exercise 6 that complete the text correctly. Then listen and check.

An early viral video

Nobody knows exactly why online videos ¹go viral, and which ones will be ² to social networking sites and shared millions of times. Often, not much happens in these clips, but they're short enough to appeal to the digital generation who ³ short attention spans, and they ⁴ our emotions. One of the first and most famous viral videos was the sneezing panda. It shows a mother panda eating bamboo with her baby asleep at her feet. Suddenly, the baby sneezes and ⁵ the mother by surprise. It's the mother's reaction which ⁶ you laugh. The video has been ⁷ over 221 million times. Why is it so popular? Probably because the baby panda is cute and the simple story ⁸ an element of surprise.

- 8 SPEAKING Think about an online video you have uploaded, shared or viewed recently. Discuss the questions.

- 1 When, where and how did you see it?
- 2 What was it about? What happened?
- 3 How would you describe it? (funny? amazing? inspiring? ...)

2 Read the online article and the comments. Decide what you think about the new app and write your own comment. Compare with a partner.READING FOCUS Gapped text3 Read the text again. Which fragments A–E complete gaps 1–4 correctly? There is one extra fragment.

- A There's no information about their backgrounds, ages, reading experience, etc., but it seems reasonable to assume that they were people who don't spend a great deal of time in libraries.
- B But reading is a different way of consuming content. I'm not sure a soundtrack can do anything but distract from the reading experience.
- C In comparison with this traditional way of reading, one that engages all the senses, the digitally downloaded text can seem dull.
- D In other words, can an audio soundtrack help people to understand a book and memorise it? The results were interesting.
- E Some people were critical: they felt distracted by things that they would prefer to leave to the imagination.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Phrases related to reading4 4.11 In your notebook, complete the phrases with an appropriate two-letter word. How do you say the phrases in your language? Then listen, check and repeat.

- What is the connection between the American launch of the app and Sherlock Holmes?
- Why were some people critical of the app?
- How did the press react to the new app?
- How does the writer describe the technology behind the app?
- How are books with a soundtrack better than silent books, according to research?
- How might the new technology help in schools?

FOCUS ON WORDS | Word building6 4.12 Many nouns are formed by adding the suffixes -ment or -ion to verbs. In your notebook, complete the table with nouns made from the verbs in the article. Use a dictionary if necessary. Then listen, check and repeat.

9 SPEAKING Most studies suggest that teenagers are reading less fiction than they used to. Discuss the questions and give reasons for your answers.

- Is this a problem and, if so, what can be done about it?
- Are there any advantages of reading more fiction?
- Do you read more or less fiction than your partner?

Can a new app enhance the reading experience?

4.10

Reading a book in the old-fashioned way (holding an object made of paper) is a sensuous experience. Books speak. Pages rustle. They smell – sometimes delicious, sometimes of previous owners. Spines creak. And so on. ¹ ? . It's convenient but does not engage all the senses.

Not until now. In America last year, a group of investors launched an app called Booktrack, a 'revolutionary new technology' that dramatically improves the e-reading experience. How? By creating a soundtrack for e-books including music and sound effects. A character knocks on the door: bang, bang, bang. Another puts a slice of bacon in the frying pan: sssssss. Someone kisses someone: well, no, perhaps not. And in between all these bursts of activity: sympathetic music, or weather noises, or (if it's a scene outdoors) a bird singing at the end of the garden.

The American launch was based on Sherlock Holmes: The Adventure of the Speckled Band. ² ? . But it had a lot of fans too. In its first ten weeks on sale, The Speckled Band was downloaded more than 100,000 times. Since then, it has been downloaded in ninety-nine different countries and has been reviewed positively in the press: 'Phenomenal', 'Revolutionary', 'books without soundtracks could some day seem as old-fashioned as silent movies'.

The technology is entertaining and very impressive. How on earth does the page know which line of text our eyes are reading, and therefore when to do the knocking on the door, etc.? Reading in this way is a deeply engaging experience. And I believe that for every reader who prefers to use their imagination, there will be a reader who is grateful for the extra fun.

But it's not just about having fun. Booktrack hired the services of Liel Leibovitz, a professor of communications at New York University, to look into 'the cognitive advantages, if any, to reading accompanied by audio elements'. ³ ? . The research found that when readers read books with a soundtrack, they not only found them easier to follow than 'silent' books, but also found them easier to remember.

People who took part in the research all came from New York and represented various levels of income and education. ⁴ ? . This could suggest that the greatest benefit of the new technology will be to help improve literacy rates and encourage schoolchildren to read.

Our culture is becoming increasingly visual, but the success so far of Booktrack also shows that we're keen to live in an acoustic world. While it is common to complain that computers cut us off from reality, you could also argue that in some ways computers remind us how much we rely on our senses.

COMMENTS

Personally, I prefer reading in silence or with some background music.

I don't mind trying this. Why not?

I like listening to books on the radio and when I'm driving, so I think I'll enjoy this new experience.

I don't think sound effects can add anything to a book ... I'd hate it.

She told us that she was proud of her film and thought she had a good chance of winning. But she added that she hadn't seen the other films yet. We asked her when she had started making films and she told us it had only been the year before but that she had been in the movie business for ten years. Have you been to a fabulous festival this summer? festivalwatch.org would love to hear all about it! Send us an article reviewing a festival that you attended this season and suggesting improvements for next year. The best article will be published on our website and the winner will receive two free tickets to next year's Glastonbury Festival.

2 Read the winning article and decide which is the most interesting and appropriate title.

- 5 What a load of rubbish!

Winner of this year's festival review competition

My friends and I, and the other lucky festivalgoers at this year's Silverfest festival, drank 25,000 bottles of water, created nearly two tonnes of rubbish and raised £20,000 for charity. We did this while listening to some of the most talented bands around and enjoying delicious food from all over the world. What an amazing experience!

We arrived early, but as we queued to get in, we could already hear the music and smell the food. The sun was shining on the colourful tents and a DJ had already begun to entertain the crowd. This year, the music was excellent; from the beats of The Chemical Brothers to the punk rock of Vampire Weekend. I'll never forget the sight and sound of 10,000 happy people with their arms in the air.

As all festivalgoers know, dancing makes you extremely hungry, especially when the air is filled with the fabulous smells of Thai, Indian, Mexican and many other world cuisines. To be honest, I was expecting terrible festival food, but I was wrong – it was absolutely delicious.

The only thing I'd suggest changing next year is the number of rubbish bins. There should be twice as many – by the end of the day there was litter everywhere.

If you are looking for a really friendly festival with fantastic bands and tasty food (and if you don't mind a bit of rubbish!), then try Silverfest next year. You won't be disappointed.

One of the most influential programmes of this type was An American Family, a documentary-style programme showing the life of an ordinary family in the early 1970s. It managed to stir up the emotions of many people when the parents on the show decided to split up. Thousands of Americans were fascinated by the show and expressed their ³ ? for the family to be together again by sending letters during and after the breakup.

More than forty years ago, it was a groundbreaking programme, and it set such a high standard for reality TV that few others have managed to meet such a high mark. That's probably why many viewers nowadays are highly ⁴ ? of reality TV shows of different kinds.

UK CRIME TRENDS

In the past, burglars used to break into houses to steal TVs and DVD players. But electronic goods are so cheap now that burglary has become less common.

- Thieves are more interested in stealing small personal items like mobile phones that people carry with them. So there has been a long term fall in the number of house burglaries and robberies but the number of muggings and mobile phone thefts has grown. Shoplifting and drug dealing crimes have grown, just like Internet crimes such as hacking and online piracy.

- 10 Murder rates haven't changed much and although the number of car crimes fell, they are now rising again: one in seven reported crimes is a car theft. In the UK, a car is stolen every six minutes! Other crimes such as vandalism and arson have fallen.

He told police that he was innocent. He said that he couldn't be guilty of robbing the jewellery store because on Saturday afternoon he was breaking into a school and he had a witness to prove it. An eighteen-year-old man was arrested for vandalising a campsite.

During the trial, the judge heard how the police caught the accused. It was the easiest case we have ever solved, the detective said. There was no victim. GRAMMAR

The Passive

I can use the Passive in a variety of tenses.

- 1 Read a text about Robben Island. How many different things has the island been used for?

Robben Island is situated nine kilometres from Cape Town. From the seventeenth to the twentieth century the island was used as a prison. During World War II prisoners were sent to Robben Island, but at that time it was also being used as a hospital. Later, Nelson Mandela was imprisoned there for eighteen years. After a total of twenty-seven years in prison, Mandela was elected as the first black president of South Africa.

Robben Island isn't used as a prison any more. It has been made into a museum and at the moment is being promoted as a popular tourist attraction. There is a large African penguin colony there now, but Robben Island will always be remembered as the place where Mandela was imprisoned.

PAYING IT FORWARD

4.28

This week's lead article comes from journalist Amy Randall who tells us why she would like to live in a kinder society and explains the benefits of 'paying it forward'.

In today's cynical world, it's often difficult to give and accept kindness. The smallest acts of kindness are often met with suspicion, and yet there is plenty of evidence to suggest that being kind can make you healthier and happier.

- 5 So what sort of acts of kindness am I talking about? They can be big gestures, or just small everyday things that will make people smile. At one end of the scale, an anonymous person might pay for someone's expensive operation without expecting a thank-you. At the other, there are the small gestures which might seem trivial, but are often extremely welcome.

One example of this is the story of a twelve-year-old boy who found a stranger's phone on a train. When he contacted the owner, she was so impressed by his honesty, that she offered a small reward. He didn't accept the money, but he wrote a note and sent it with the returned phone. In the note he said that he didn't want the money, he just wanted the woman to do something nice for someone else.

- 20 This kind of gesture is known as 'paying it forward'. The idea is that if you do a good deed for someone but ask for nothing in return, they will then do a good deed for someone else, and kindness will multiply and create a huge wave of good feeling across the globe.

25 There are many benefits to being kind. Giving to others can make you feel more connected to other people and increase your sense of purpose in life. You feel you've made a difference and there's a reason to get out of bed in the morning. Taking time to help others may even protect you from disease. A thirty-year study has shown that women who 30 volunteered for a charity were sixteen percent less likely to suffer a major illness during that period – perhaps because it lowers stress levels.

I believe that people are naturally kind. This was also the conclusion of a study by Michael Norton at Harvard Business 35 School: he did research in more than 130 countries and found that people who spend a bigger proportion of their income on others were more fulfilled than those who spend it on themselves. He thinks the desire to give and share could be a basic human trait.

40 That's the theory anyway. But when I've tried out acts of kindness on strangers, they often seem unsure how to react to me. In my local coffee shop, I tried to give away a cup of coffee. I thought people would be delighted, but instead I was met with suspicious stares. Then I realised why this was happening: we don't expect 45 kindness from strangers – on the contrary, we expect them to trick us or take advantage of us.

But don't let that put you off. I did find someone to take my coffee and when I saw how pleased she was, it made my day. We need to fight against the 'me-first' society we live in and start a kindness movement. It sounds cheesy, but I think we need it.

GLOSSARY

cheesy (adj) – banalny, tandetny
 trait (noun) – cecha

A woman who runs a sandwich bar selling peanut butter and jam sandwiches noticed that somebody had removed some food from her rubbish bins. When she realised that a homeless person was taking leftover food from her bins, she 5 was upset. She was sad to think that someone was so poor that they had to eat other people's leftovers. She typed a note and pinned it to her restaurant window.

The note was addressed to the person going through the rubbish for their next meal. She told this person that they were a human 10 being and worth more than a meal from a dustbin. She offered them a free peanut butter and jam sandwich, fresh vegetables and a cup of water and promised not to ask any questions.

The restaurant owner said she understands that everyone
 15 needs help at one time or another, and in this case, she was happy to offer the homeless person a helping hand.

GRAMMAR FOCUS

Have something done

You use the structure have something done when you arrange for somebody to do something for you. (You don't do it yourself.)

Compare:

They had the locks changed. (somebody did it for them)

FOCUS VLOG About social media

- 4.33 Listen to the Focus Vlog. How do the speakers stay in touch with their friends online? Write the answers in your notebook.

1 SPEAKING Read the news report and discuss the questions.

- 1 What is your opinion of the politician's comments?
- 2 How frequently do you usually check your phone?
- 3 What do you think it means to be addicted to your phone?

Are young people enjoying life?

A politician has upset young people with the comments he made during a television interview this week. He said, 'Today's teenagers have forgotten the simple pleasures of life such as conversation with friends and family, and time spent outdoors in our beautiful country. If something isn't available in a three-minute YouTube video, or can't be 'liked' on Facebook, then it is of no interest to anyone under the age of eighteen. We live in a nation of lazy, phone-addicted young people who have no idea how to really enjoy life.'

2 After a class discussion on this news item, Oliver wrote an opinion essay. What do you think about the points he makes?

Oliver Gleeson, class 6C

It is not unusual for older generations to criticise younger people's lifestyles. For instance, a politician said recently that the young people in this country were lazy and did not know how to enjoy life. In my view, these comments are incorrect and unfair.

To begin with, I would like to point out that not all young people are addicted to their phones. Many communicate and share interests online, but most of us do not spend all our free time there. For example, my friends and I regularly meet and spend time doing and talking about the things we enjoy. In other words, we have real lives.

Next, as far as I am concerned, most young people are not lazy. For instance, like many of my friends, I am studying for my final exams and learning to drive at the moment. In addition, I play the guitar and go mountain biking most weekends. Put another way, we are too busy to be lazy.

Lastly, it seems to me that the majority of young people do enjoy life. Many of us have social lives which include a range of sports, hobbies and interests. Moreover, plenty of these activities involve spending time with friends and making the most of our beautiful country.

In summary, I do not think the politician who made these comments understands today's young people. I think he should visit some local schools, talk to some teenagers and find out what their lives are really like.

3 SPEAKING Discuss the questions.

- How similar or different are you to Oliver and his friends?
- How would you respond if somebody called you 'lazy' or 'phone addicted'?
- What are the main differences between the way your generation, your parents' generation and your grandparents' generation 'enjoy life'?

- 1 Teenagers do not understand the value of things. They want all the latest fashions, the most expensive phones and laptops, and they want them all now. They don't seem to realise that these things cost money!
- 2 Teenagers do not respect the opinions of adults. They think they know best and don't value our experience. They seem to forget that we were once teenagers too.
- 3 Teenagers don't read anymore. They don't value the importance of books. As a result, their language skills suffer and they can't express themselves very well.

Everybody should do voluntary work.

- 6 4.35 Listen to two people talking about reasons for and against doing voluntary work. Do they mention any of the points you thought of in Exercise 5?
- 7 4.35 Read sections B and C in the SPEAKING FOCUS. Complete the texts FOR and AGAINST in your notebook. Listen again and check your answers.

FOR

In my opinion, there are a lot of ¹ advantages of doing voluntary work. ² ? benefit is that it makes people think about other people who are less fortunate than they are. What I ³ ? is that if you do voluntary work, you will understand the problems that exist in society. Another ⁴ ? of doing voluntary work is that you become a better person – less selfish and more generous.

AGAINST

First of all, I agree that there are a lot of advantages to doing voluntary work, but I think there are ⁵ ? too. One of the ⁶ ? disadvantages of voluntary work is that it can take up a lot of time. What I mean is, voluntary work could stop you helping your own family or friends, or take time away from your studies. ⁷ ? disadvantage of voluntary work is that you don't earn money, so you are still dependent on your parents for everything. To be ⁸ ? , I think we should learn to be independent from our parents as soon as possible.

- 8 SPEAKING Choose a topic. Student A: make notes on the advantages. Student B: make notes about the disadvantages. Discuss your ideas. Use the SPEAKING FOCUS to help you.

Caring for the community

How can a dog change your life?

Ever since I was quite seriously bitten by a dog when I was a young child, I had been terrified of those animals. When I saw someone walking a dog, I would immediately rush to the other side of the street. When I planned to visit friends, I always made it clear that their dogs had to be put elsewhere during my visit. I had told myself many times that my fear was silly, but I simply couldn't control myself. Every time I got close to a dog I started shaking. I didn't know how to free myself from my fear.

Then one day I read a short article in the local newspaper about a rescue shelter that needed volunteers for dog-walking and other duties, and it was as if a light came on in my mind. I suddenly realised that all I had to do was face my fear. I immediately called the shelter and made an appointment to visit the next day.

When I arrived, I introduced myself to Susan, the person who was going to train me, and then I explained my issues with dogs. She said that I wasn't the first person to come in with that problem, and she felt sure I would feel differently as soon as I had met a few of the animals. Then she led me to a kennel where a large brown dog, Buddy, was sleeping. He immediately stood up and looked at me, then walked over and put his nose close to my hand. At first, we looked at each other with suspicion, and I suddenly felt really scared. But as soon as I saw the look of hope in Buddy's eyes, I was convinced.

Susan explained that Buddy had been brought to the shelter by the police after they had arrested his owner on suspicion of drug dealing, shoplifting and other crimes. Buddy's owner was likely to spend a long time in jail, and Susan was certain that Buddy would need a new home. 'And look,' she said. 'He already likes you! You're actually the first man he's not been afraid of.'

I spent many hours with Buddy, walking and feeding him, and we became close friends. After several weeks, I announced that I was ready to take Buddy home. Some of my more cynical friends claimed that I had been pretending to be afraid of dogs all along, and others have said they were amazed to hear I was adopting a pet of any kind. But all I can say is that Buddy has introduced me to many of the small pleasures of life, and we are so close that now we are helping young offenders come back to life outside of prison by getting them to volunteer at animal shelters.

- What was the narrator's relationship with dogs before he went to the shelter?

Dynamic and state verbs

Czasowniki dynamiczne, takie jak do, work, play, opisują czynności i mogą występować w czasach prostych (np. Present Simple) i ciągłych (np. Present Continuous):

I often listen to classical music. Często słucham muzyki klasycznej.
I'm listening to Mozart now. Słucham teraz Mozarta.

Czasowniki statyczne wyrażają m.in.:

- uczucia, emocje, preferencje, np.: hate, like, love, prefer,
- stany umysłu, np.: believe, know, need, remember, think, understand, want,
- doznania, np.: feel, hear, see.

Czasowniki statyczne występują przeważnie w czasach prostych, a nie ciągłych, nawet jeśli odnoszą się do zdarzeń lub stanów mających miejsce w chwili, w której o nich mówimy:

Do you understand me? Rozumiesz mnie?

Does she want to go to a music festival? Czy ona chce pojechać na festiwal muzyczny?

Niektóre czasowniki mogą występować zarówno w znaczeniu statycznym, jak i dynamicznym, w zależności od tego, co chcemy wyrazić, np.:

- think: myśleć, uważać (stan); zastanawiać się, mieć zamiar (czynność),
- have: mieć, posiadać (stan); brać, robić (czynność, np. jeść śniadanie),
- look: wyglądać (stan); patrzeć (czynność):

Do I look good in this dress? Czy dobrze wyglądam w tej sukience? (stan)

What are you looking at? Na co patrzysz? (czynność)

Future forms

Do wyrażania przyszłości służą czasy Present Simple, Present Continuous i Future Simple (will/won't) oraz konstrukcja be going to + bezokolicznik.

Czasu Present Simple używamy, gdy mówimy o rozkładach jazdy, planach zajęć, grafikach i wydarzeniach, których termin jest oficjalnie ustalony:

Lunch break starts at 12.30 and finishes at 13.30.

Przerwa obiadowa rozpoczyna się o 12.30 i kończy się o 13.30.

Czasu Present Continuous używamy w odniesieniu do sprecyzowanych i ustalonych planów, do realizacji których podjęto już przygotowania, a ich szczegóły (czas, miejsce itp.) zostały ustalone. W języku polskim również posługujemy się w takiej sytuacji czasem teraźniejszym:

They're giving prizes to the winners of the cookery competition tomorrow in the Town Hall.

Jutro w ratuszu rozdają nagrody zwycięzcom zawodów kulinarnych.

I can lend you this cookery book but I'll probably need it next week. Mogę ci pożyczyć tę książkę kucharską, ale prawdopodobnie będę jej potrzebował w przyszłym tygodniu.

Zdania warunkowe drugiego stopnia

Podobnie jak w zdaniach warunkowych pierwszego stopnia, zdania składowe mogą wystąpić w dowolnej kolejności. Jeśli zdanie podrzędne (warunek z if) występuje jako pierwsze, stawiamy po nim przecinek.

Przed rzeczownikami niepoliczalnymi nie stawiamy a/an ani cyfry/liczby:
